CHEERED WHEN GONG SOUNDED

Yesterday's Session on Exchange Revived the Brokers' Hopes.

BUT TWO FAILURES

Collapse of Brace of Small Firms Had Little Effect on the Market.

CREDITORS MAY BE LENIENT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 27.

When the gong sounded at 3 o'clock today a great cheer went up on the stock exchange, expressive of a general feeling of relief that the day had passed without developing the numerous disasters which had been so freely predicted. Instead of a complete wreck of prices, stocks scored a recovery; instead of a long list of casualties the reckoning of the day comprised the failure of only one New York firm and one Boston operator.

From a stock market point of view neither failure was of importance. That of Edwin S. Hooley & Co., the New York house, was fully expected as far back as Friday last, and had been thoroughly discounted. The failure in Boston of William Bassett, attracted little attention.

Although casualties were few and prices recovered, the feeling at the close of business was one of hope rather than of confidence. It was recognized that the atmosphere was clearing, but there was still some uncertainty, due, doubtless, to the vast number of rumors which made free with the names of some very important firms.

Brokers Were Anxious.

Wall street was the scene of suppressed excitement before the opening of business. Scores of brokers had cut short their Sunday outing and returned to the city on the preceding evening to be on hand at the opening. They were all nervous.

The visiting gallery of the exchange was crowded. Many women were in the throng. Those who came expecting to see a scene of ruin went away disappointed. Most stocks opened a trifle lower, but a few stocks showed some recoveries from the low level of Saturday and began to improve.

This, however, was short lived for within a quarter of an hour after the opening the chairman announced the suspension of Edwin S. Hooley & Co. The announcement was greeted with an outburst which sounded like a cheer. This in some quarters was attributed to the passing of the dividend on Evansville & Terre Haute stock in 1902, which was attributed to Mr. Hooley.

Stocks broke violently in some quarters on the announcement of the Hooley failure Evansville & Terre Haute, which closed at 49 on Saturday, having sustained a 12-point drop. Following the Hooley

PLAN TO DELAY IS KNOCKED OUT

Scheme for a Filtration Commission Fails to Pass Council.

SAHNER IS TOO LATE

Councilmanic Sand Filtration Advocates to Help E. M. Bigelow Prepare Plans.

EXCITING TIME IN COUNCIL

After an exciting session last night common council, by the election of Daniel J. Bole as chairman, clinched the legality of the recent adoption of the Pennsylvania railroad Duquesne way franchise. The advocates of sand filtration gained a victory. As the result of the meeting the filtration question stands as follows, select council concurring:

Director Edward M. Bigelow of the department of public works has been instructed to prepare estimates and plans for a filtered water supply for the whole city, the South Side included.

A committee of councilmen, three from common and two from select, is to act in conjunction with the director.

The sand filtration advocates will control the committee and be able to prevent estimates so extravagant as to induce the people to disapprove of sand filtration.

A movement to open up the whole subject again, to appoint a commission to investigate mechanical as well as sand filtration, was defeated.

Common council last night adopted the report of the filtration committee, directing the director of the department of public works to prepare plans for a sand filtration plant to supply the entire city. The director is to report at the first regular meeting in September. A committee of council will aid him, and that committee will be controlled by sand filtration advocates. The meeting of council was called to consider the sand filtration subject only.

With two chairmen claiming the right to preside over common council and with a police captain and four policemen present to preserve order, affairs looked squally at the start-off last night. The strange thing about it was the fact that both rival chairmen belonged to the Citizens party. To lookers-on it seemed as if some kind of a harmony deal was needed right there.

The proceedings of the branch were strangely mixed up by reason of previous disputes over the Pennsylvania railroad's Duquesne way ordinance, which has been passed by common council, although some of the members of that body allege that the measure was passed illegally. The

PRISONERS FREE AFTER DESPERATE DEATH STRUGGLE

One Penitentiary Officer Is Killed and Two Are Wounded in Battle With Thirteen Convicts, Who Make Their Escape to Mountains.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Folsom, Cal., July 27.—Thirteen desperate prisoners, confined in the Folsom penitentiary, made a successful break for liberty at the breakfast hour this morning. After a fierce fight in the captain's office, during which a turnkey was fatally stabbed, a guard was killed and another officer was wounded, the convicts seized arms and ammunition, and, using the warden and other officers as shields, escaped. Tonight it is believed they are making for the Bald mountain. State troops ordered out by Gov. Pardee have gone to the scene.

THE DEAD.

WILLIAM L. COTTER, a guard; cut in the abdomen; died five hours later.

THE WOUNDED.

C. J. COCHRANE, turnkey; stabbed in back; will probably die.

W. C. PALMERS, an officer; cut on the head.

The convicts went to the office of R. J. Murphy, captain of the guard, and seized Warden Wilkinson, his grandson, Harry Wilkinson, Capt. Murphy and several other officers and guards. A desperate fight took place. The convicts were armed with knives and razors, and with these they attacked Warden Wilkinson and his officers. The warden's clothing was slashed into shreds with a razor, but the blade did not touch the flesh.

Turnkey Cochrane fought the convicts with a chair, raining blows upon them right and left. Finally he was felled by a knife thrust in the back. Guard Cotter was cut in the abdomen, and he died about noon. Palmers was severely cut in the head. The floor of the office was covered with blood.

The officers were easily outnumbered and were soon relieved of their arms. Then, using the officers as shields, the convicts started for the armory on the outskirts of the penitentiary grounds. They passed a gatling gun on one of the walls, but the guards were afraid to shoot for fear of killing the prison officials.

When the armory was reached officers there attempted to interfere, but were quickly overpowered and the convicts, after fortifying themselves further with rifles, knives, pistols and ammunition, made a dash for the country.

Convicts, each armed with rifles, marched one on either side of Warden Wilkinson who was threatened with death if he made an attempt to escape and the officers were told that if any of the pursuers took the life of one of their number that they would retaliate, life for life.

At Mormon ridge, about a mile from the penitentiary, the warden, his grandson, and Capt. Murphy were released and sent back. The others were marched along with the convicts.

Further on the convicts went to a farmer's house, seized his four-horse team and wagon, stripped the house of all its portable valuables, took the farmer with them as a driver and headed for Bald mountain. Evidently it is their intention to reach Alabaster cave, situated near this mountain. Among the officers carried off by them is General Overseer McDonough. Some fears are felt for his safety as he bears the especial ill-will of the convicts.

Governor Pardee ordered company H, of Placerville, to the scene and company C, Second infantry of Nevada City was ordered to be oin readiness.

The several hundred remaining prisoners made no attempt to get away and were quietly returned to their cells and locked up.

The following is a list of the convicts who escaped:

Fred Howard, San Francisco, 15 years, robbery; Mike Muller, Fresno, 12 years, burglary; H. Eldridge, Almeda county, 30 years, robbery; J. Theron, San Francisco, 15 years, robbery; J. H. Wood, San Francisco, life, robbery; J. Allison, San Joaquin, 4 years, robbery; J. Murphy, Contra Costa, 4 years, bigamy; A. Seabis, Sacramento, 25 years, bigamy; J. Roberts, San Francisco, 20 years, robbery; R. M. Gordon, Sacramento, 45 years, robbery; Ray Fahey, Sacramento, life, robbery; S. J. Case, Los Angeles, life, robbery.

PLACERVILLE, CAL., July 27.—According to a report received here a fight between the escaped convicts from Folsom and a posse has taken place near Pilot Hill, in which Fred Howard was killed and A. Scabio wounded. Both are convicts. The convicts are said to have scattered and to be making for the surrounding woods. A company of militia is en route to Pilot Hill.

BRISTOW HAS NEW LEAD FOR THE INVESTIGATION

Promotion Syndicate May Now Be Hauled Forward in the Postal Scandal.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow has discovered a new lead in the postoffice investigation. It is asserted that the new suspects are entirely different from the cases being investigated by the grand jury. It is suspected that the new line deals with the members of the promotion syndicate who have been in the background in New York and other cities, and have thus far been able to conceal their foot prints.

It had been expected that after George W. Beavers had been indicted he would be willing to turn states evidence, but it is now believed that the department is in a fair way to get the information without his assistance. Mr. Bristow was at his desk today, having returned from Oyster Bay.

Stories have been current about the statute of limitation applying in the case of Perry S. Heath, former first assistant general. Thus far the inspectors have not connected Mr. Heath with any transactions that would warrant going before the grand jury.

WORSHIPERS CLUBBED.

Man Made Insane by Shouting of Free Methodist Congregation. Pastor Beat Retreat.

AKRON, O., July 27.—(Special.)—Angered because the members of the congregation of the Free Methodist church were shouting, Samuel B. Clutter secured a club and started down the aisle clubbing everybody he could reach. The Rev. D. W. Wesley was in the midst of prayer which he concluded without ceremony and beat a hasty retreat with the other members who were able to get out.

Women fainted and children were knocked down and a panic ensued. Amid it all Clutter kept busy with his club. Finally he was overpowered and held until officers arrived, but he fought all the way to the police station. Only two persons were badly hurt, Bartholomew and Thomas Aiken, although at least a dozen were badly bruised. It is believed that Clutter was temporarily insane.

CLEMENT SUGGESTED TO HEAD COLORADO FUEL CO.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, July 27.—It is stated on good authority that in the very near future the Utah Fuel Company, reorganized and embracing the Pleasant Valley Coal and other companies, will be merged into and become a part of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. It is reported also that the consolidation will be made largely on the recommendation of George Gould and John H. Clement of New York. Mr. Clement, it is stated, will be elected president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, to succeed J. S. Osgood.

CANNOT BE COUNCILMEN AND FEDERAL OFFICERS

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt has decided that a seat in the city councils of Philadelphia is incompatible with a federal position, and has decided that one office or the other must be relinquished by the holder. This decision is the outcome of an investigation asked by the Pennsylvania Civil Service Reform association of the cases of James H. Wilkes, Joseph Coward and Thomas J. Erbe, deputy collectors of internal revenue, and all members of common council.

JURY'S VERDICT ON JEANNETTE DISASTER

GREENSBURG, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—After deliberating until almost midnight, the jury empaneled by Coroner Charles A. Wynn to investigate the disaster that befell the Brush Creek valley on the afternoon of Sunday, July 5, reached a unanimous verdict at Jeannette tonight. The death of 18 of the victims, the jury found, was due to a "flood caused by an unusually heavy rain." Electrocution, it was decided, was responsible for the death of Oberle of Indianapolis, Ind.

RUSSIA HAS DEEP GAME IN THE EAST

Czar May Be Seeking War to Prevent Rebellion at Home.

AMERICA IN THE WAY

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 27.—The internal affairs of Russia are believed here to have an important bearing on the situation in the far east, and in the opinion of careful observers, makes the outlook for war more ominous than it otherwise would be. It is known that there is a growing feeling of unrest throughout the length and breadth of the czar's European dominions. The Socialistic movement is growing and outbreaks against the authorities, accompanied by assassination and bloodshed are becoming more frequent.

It is axiomatic in European governments that the best antidote for internal disturbances is a foreign war, and little doubt is felt here that Russia when she has her lines laid had a little rather fight than not. The restraining influence is the fear that if fighting begins it may become too general and involve all of Europe. To guard against this Russia's energies are now believed to be directed. France is now her ally, Austria and Italy do not count for much in the game, while Germany has announced semi-officially that Russia can do as she pleases in the far east so long as Germany's interests are protected. This leaves Japan, Great Britain and the United States to be reckoned with.

It is believed Russia would be willing to risk it with the two former if she could be assured of the neutrality of the United States. When this is assured the general belief here is that Russia will not only throw off the mask so far as Manchuria is concerned, but will become so aggressive in Korea and the northern Chinese provinces that Japan will be forced to fight or give up any influence she may have or hopes to have in eastern affairs.

So far as her military preparations are concerned, they are said to be complete. She can put a thoroughly equipped army of 150,000 fighting men in the field at short notice and can in a little while add largely to this number. Russia believes herself a match for Japan, backed by all the help Great Britain is in a position to give her, and it is believed it will not be long before she will have things in such a shape to put the matter to a test.

DONT WANT A PENSION.

Indiana Veteran Refuses to Allow His Name to Be Placed Upon the Roll.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—(Special.)—Walter Vail, a citizen of Indiana, was a soldier in the Civil war. He read about the millions who had applied for and received pensions, and concluded that he was entitled to the perquisite along with the others. He made formal application and the papers shortly would have been made out. He evidently thought it all over with the result that the following addressed to Eugene F. Ware, pension commissioner was posted on the bulletin board of the bureau this afternoon:

"Kindly withdraw and cancel all papers in relation to my claim for pension. I do not want it and the services rendered do not in my judgment entitle me to it.

"Walter Vail.

RUSSIA STOPS GRAIN EXPORTS TO JAPAN

PEKING, July 27.—The Russian administration of New Chwang has stopped the exportation of wheat to Japan. The export of grain from Chinese ports is illegal, but the Russians heretofore have ignored the law. During the past week the Japanese obtained many shiploads from New Chwang, apparently preparing for war contingencies.

FOUR BROTHERS FOUGHT AND TWO ARE WOUNDED

Fatal Battle With Revolvers and Knives in an Ohio River Town.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

RUSH RUN, O., July 27.—The four Birch brothers, all coal miners of this place, engaged in a free for all battle on the depot platform early this evening in which guns and knives were freely used. As a result of the melee, Samuel Birch is dying from a pistol wound in the neck inflicted by his brother, Allie, and John Birch is seriously, although not fatally, wounded from a dozen cuts with a knife.

Seven shots were exchanged during the battle. The men had just returned from Brilliant, bringing back with them two gallons of whisky and a keg of beer. After partaking liberally of the liquor en route a quarrel arose upon arrival as to the division of the remainder and the fight began. After the shooting, Allie Birch took to the hills and a posse is pursuing him.

"MOTHER" JONES HUNTED PLATT WITH ELEPHANT

Easy Senator, However, Dodged Army by Way of Hotel's Back Door.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 27.—When he saw "Mother" Jones advancing up the front steps, Senator Platt left by the way of the back door of the Oriental hotel, at Manhattan Beach, this morning and hid himself in the car that leaves for New York at 8:23. The car did not start for five minutes after the senator entered it, and "Mother" Jones did not learn where he was until too late to appeal to him.

"Mother" Jones had announced on Sunday night that she intended calling upon the senator early this morning, and at 7 o'clock she mustered her troops in front of the animal show, whose owner has been entertaining her soldiers at Coney Island. He lent to her an elephant, and the big beast with "G. O. P." emblazoned on his forehead took his place at the head of the procession. A man sat on his neck and a fife and drum corps in the howdah.

Behind him were "Mother" Jones, Marshal Sweeney and the army. When the drum corps struck up a lively march the parade began. Senator Platt heard of the advance of "Mother" Jones and prepared for instant flight.

HOBART'S WIDOW MAY WED SENATOR W. P. FRYE

BRETON WOODS, N. H., July 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, widow of the late vice president of the United States, will become the bride of Senator William P. Frye of Maine in the fall, according to report here. Mrs. Hobart is spending the summer here with her young son, and Senator Frye is her constant attendant. He arrived a few days after Mrs. Hobart's arrival and intends to remain all summer. He and Mrs. Hobart spend their time driving and walking, and neither is often seen in public alone.

FOUR FATALLY WOUNDED IN TWO KENTUCKY DUELS

JACKSON, KY., July 27.—Reports were received today that in a fight on Long creek, 20 miles from here, Govan Smith after being shot through the breast by John Hall, shot Hall through the brain. They died within a few minutes of each other. On Hunting creek John Stidman and Alexander Crawft, Stidman armed with a knife and Crawft with a pistol, inflicted on each other fatal wounds.

WEALTHY FARMER MURDERED; SON CHARGED WITH CRIME

M'PHERSON, KAS., July 27.—The body of J. W. McAnerny, a wealthy land owner, with the throat cut was found in an old well near his home. George McAnerny, a son, was arrested today suspected of connection with his father's death. McAnerny had been on bad terms with his wife and son for some time.

ASKED DOCTOR TO KILL BABE

Young Parents Charged With Murder of Their New Born Son.

BODY WAS EXHUMED

Physician Says His Life Was Threatened If He Exposed Affair.

FATHER IS LANDED IN JAIL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Brownsville, Pa., July 27.—William C. Arnold, 25 years old, a well-to-do farmer of Jefferson township, Fayette county, was taken to jail in Uniontown tonight by County Detective Alexander McBeth, charged with the murder of his son. His wife, Mary Effie Arnold, 22 years old, is also charged with murder. Arnold, the son of a leading farmer, last January married Mary Effie Clark, daughter of James Clark.

Friday night late a messenger summoned Dr. Lilley of this place to see a woman who was ill. Lilley, it is stated, went to the farm and was mysteriously ushered into the house, being cautioned to make no sound, as another family lived in the house. He was taken to a bed room where he found a woman and a new born babe lying. He says the following conversation took place:

"Now, dearie," said one to the other, "tell the doctor what you want him to don."

"Well, we want you to kill the child."

Dr. Lilley looked in wonderment from one to the other. "You have got hold of the wrong fellow," said he, "if you expect me to commit murder." Then the physician examined the child and drew from its mouth a mass of cloth that nearly choked it. Again the request was urgently made by both mother and father. Believing himself in danger, the doctor put his hand to his pistol pocket and exclaimed:

"Before I would kill that child I would kill both of you. Be careful."

The threat was successful and he was not molested. Leaving the house, Dr. Lilley says he was grasped roughly on the shoulder by the man, who said:

"See that you say nothing of this, or something will happen to you."

Dr. Lilley returned to his home. Fearing, however, that something might happen to the child Dr. Lilley took a friend with him and went to the Arnold place again yesterday. The child was not there.

"Where is the child?" he demanded.

"He is dead," the mother said.

"What was the matter with him?"

"Oh, he just died," was the reply, "and my husband buried it."

The officers here were informed, and the district attorney directed Chief Cope and Officer Thompson of Bridgeport to go to the Arnold home and demand the body of the child. The young husband showed where the little corpse lay and helped to exhume it.

The inquest was held today. Drs. C. C. Reighard and McMullin performed the autopsy. The jury found that a male infant, fully developed, had been killed, and recommended that William C. Arnold and his wife be charged with murder. The detectives secured a commitment from Squire Bowman and took the prisoner to Uniontown.

LEO LEFT WILL TO SUCCESSOR

Pope Recommended That Friendly Relations Be Kept With Powers.

BETTING IS STOPPED

Cardinal Gibbons' Enthusiastic Reception—Chances of Election Are Remote.

CEREMONY CAUSES ALARM

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, July 27.—Leo has left what is called a political will. In it he recapitulates the chief political events of his pontificate and states the reasons for his various acts. He recommends that his successor maintain all the friendly relations now existing with foreign nations, and exhorts him to try to live on friendly terms with every power. To some cardinals this seems an exhortation to attempt a modus vivendi even with Italy. The friendliness of the vatican and the quirinal is foreshadowed by many facts.

First, Oreglia, when receiving the members of the municipality of Rome, referred feelingly to the generous praise attached to the distribution by Roman police officials of tickets of admission to the ceremonies. Secondly, Italian soldiers were invited to enter St. Peter's and help to preserve order.

Perosi, the priest-composer, has produced a special Dies Irae and benediction for the mass to be sung Thursday, which is the last day of the obsequies. Perosi is director of the Sistine choir. The drawbacks of the various candidates for the succession are summed up as follows: If Vanutelli is elected there will be two masters instead of one, because there are two brothers. Oreglia is imperious and autocratic. If Rampolla is elected his discredited policy of diplomacy will be continued. Agliardi is ultra-modern; Di Pietro is non-descript. Capecelatro is too old. Gotti is not mentioned nowadays. The objection to Vanutelli is generally admitted to be cloptrap.

Police Stop Bookmaking.

Bookmaking on the various cardinals' chances has been stopped by the police. The enterprising Romans who applied to the prefect of police for permission to introduce the Paris mutuals system of betting on the election were refused. They offered a handsome percentage of the receipts.

The American Princess Rospigliosi (nee Reed) of Washington, sister-in-law of the commander of the noble guard explained to me the patrician views of the results of the conclave. The princess said:

"The Roman nobility do not expect a cardinal belonging to their caste to be elected because none are available. The new patrician candidates in the college, like Macchi and Delevopi, have been recognized by receiving official positions in the conclave. The Roman nobility would like to see Vanutelli elected. Naturally I prefer him, for he is the bishop of the diocese in which is situated our country estate. He has many American friends, among others Cardinal Gibbons, who corresponds with him.

Vanutelli Favors Americans.

"Should Vanutelli be elected the Amer-

MYSTERIOUS ACTIONS AT AEROPLANE

Scientists Made a Night Visit to Langley Airship Stakes.

TEST WILL BE SOON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Widewater, Va., July 27.—The tugboat attached to the airship expedition of Prof. Langley tonight patrolled the Maryland and Virginia shores near Widewater. A careful inspection after dark was made of the stakes which the Smithsonian experts several days ago drove into the beach on both banks of the Potomac, but while considerable time and care was expended on the mysterious operation, no further efforts toward a trial of the $70,000 flying machine, or model, were made.

After satisfying themselves, evidently, that the stakes were still where they had been placed, the tugboat steamed to the houseboat where it remained for some time. No lights were visible on the Ark, and following a delay, during which no work was done, the tug steamed back up the river, carrying the party of scientists to the Mt. Vernon clubhouse. It was the first visit made by the tug to the "Buzzard" after nightfall since the vessel was brought down from Washington.

This fact, together with the careful inspection made of the stakes, is regarded as an indication that the date for a test of the Langley aeroplane is not far distant. The party of Smithsonian experts which spent Sunday in Washington returned after 12 o'clock this afternoon. No work was done all day.

THIRTEEN PERSONS KILLED IN WRECK

LONDON, July 27.—Thirteen persons have been killed and a score injured in a railway accident at Glasgow, where an excursion train from the Isle of Man crashed into the buffers at the station. Two cars were telescoped in the crash. Among the killed were the members of one entire family.

QUIET DAY WAS HAD BY PRESIDENT

Only One Official Visitor at Sagamore Hill Yesterday.

RUMOR OF A CRANK

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, L. I., July 27.—John Barrett, United States minister to Argentine, who, in his former capacity as Asiatic commissioner of the Louisiana purchase exposition, obtained the agreement of China and other oriental countries to send large exhibitions to St. Louis next year, called on the president today.

The Chinese are much dissatisfied with the restrictions under which Chinamen, accompanying the exhibit, will be allowed to sojourn in the United States. It is understood that Mr. Barrett discussed this matter with the president, but what decision, if any, was reached, could not be learned.

Major General Young, who, on the retirement of Lieutenant General Miles, on August 15, will become lieutenant general, will this week be the guest of Robert Townsend. He will call on the president, but inasmuch as Secretary Root has thoroughly systematized the general staff there is no reason for any conference of importance on this subject.

The villagers had a rumor this morning that there had been something like an attempt on the part of some crank to reach the president. The rumor had its start from the fact that some time last night someone cut the rope with which George Stoddard, a well known lawyer, had fastened his rowboat, and had used the boat to make a landing out on the neck not far from Sagamore Hill.

Thermometer Dropped to 16.

leans would be prime favorites at the vatican. He doesn't seek votes and is discouraging the enthusiastic friends wishing to help him. The patricians say Gotti is a good mathematician and nothing more; they say Oreglia, though relatively subdued since Leo's death, cannot conquer his northern Lombardy severity.

"Agliardi is too doctrinaire and democratic for the Roman nobles. Capcelatro is opposed because his election might necessitate another conclave next year. The Vanutellis are Romans. They were born about an hour's distance from Rome. Serafino is the noblest Roman of them all."

IRISH CARDINAL PAYS TRIBUTE TO GIBBONS

Does Not Wish Him, However, to Spend His Life Confined in the Vatican.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ROME, July 27.—Almost all the cardinals of the conclave have now arrived. Their time today was mainly occupied with a lengthy meeting of the congregation, which was notable for the cordiality with which Cardinal Gibbons was received. After the meeting the cardinals received numerous visits at their various residences.

In well-informed circles Cardinal Angelo Di Pietro, secretary of the late pope, is being talked of as a compromise candidate in the event that Cardinals Oreglia, Gotti, Rampolla or Serafino Vannutelli is unable to secure the necessary votes. Should Di Pietro be elected pope he would, it is said, be the representative of the Rampolla-Gotti faction, and yet would be fairly acceptable to all.

Cardinal Michael Logue, archbishop of Armagh, who, with the exception of Cardinal Gibbons, will be the only English speaking cardinal in the conclave, arrived today from Ireland. He said he believed that the successor to Leo would be quickly chosen.

Eulogizes American Cardinal.

Speaking of Cardinal Gibbons, the Irish cardinal paid him a glowing tribute, though, like all the prelates here, he held out no hope that the American cardinal had the remotest chance of election.

"Indeed," said Cardinal Logue, "I think Cardinal Gibbons would be a subject for commiseration if the election should devolve upon him, for no American would care to spend the rest of his life confined within the precincts of the vatican."

The Irish cardinal expressed the opinion that the question of sending a note to the powers protesting against the treatment of the vatican by the Italian government should be left to the next pope.

It is now practically certain that all the cardinals will be present at the conclave except Cardinal Moran, archbishop of Sydney, who will not reach Rome in time, and Cardinal Celesia, archbishop of Palermo, who is too ill to attend.

A proclamation was posted in the streets of Rome tonight inviting citizens to attend the annual commemoration of the death of King Humbert, which will take the form of a procession through the streets to the Pantheon on the morning of July 29.

The ecclesiastics view the approaching ceremony with some alarm, believing that the anti-clericals may take advantage of the opportunity to make a counter demonstration against the sympathy exhibited all over Italy in connection with the death of the pope.

Gibbons' Modest Quarters.

Each of the cardinals during the conclave will have a suite of apartments comprising four rooms, made up of three bedrooms, one for the cardinal, one for his conclavist and the third for his servant.

A press representative was permitted to visit the cell in which Cardinal Gibbons will occupy during the conclave. The bedroom of the cardinal is decorated with paper of an ordinary yellowish-gray and it contains a small black iron bed, a marble top dressing table, a small writing desk, an arm chair, an iron clothes stand, a little high, moveable mirror, framed in iron and wood, and a prie dieu at the side of the bed. Over the bed hangs a picture of a Madonna. The bedroom of the cardinal measures only 11x14 feet.

TOOK MONEY, LEFT CHILD.

McKees Rocks Woman Deserted Her Husband and Left a Note.

Mrs. James Mestanick of McKees Rocks left home yesterday, taking with her $1,920 that her husband says belongs to him, and leaving behind her 2-year-old child. Mestanick is aged 35 and his wife is 24. He is a molder employed by the Fort Pitt Malleable Iron works. The couple were married in Bridgeport, Conn., six years ago. About a year ago they went to McKees Rocks from Troy, N. Y. When Mestanick came home from work he found a note which said: "Goodby, you will never see me again. Emma."

Of the money taken by the woman, $400 was in cash. The remainder was represented by a bank book on the Troy National bank. It is thought the woman has gone to Troy to draw the money. Chief Gregan of the McKees Rocks police force has notified the Troy police to be on the lookout for the woman. The husband has no man he suspects in the case.

legality of that ordinance is upheld by a number of the Citizens party's members and by all the Republican members; its illegality is maintained by a minority of the Citizens party members.

New Lineup Was Apparent.

The line-up of the forces on the filtration ordinance is different, for a minority of the Citizens members and all of the Republican members are in favor of sand filtration, the peculiarity being that the majority of the Citizens who stood with the Republicans on the Duquesne way ordinance are opposed to sand filtration.

The situation was complicated last night, for it was necessary for the members who voted for the Duquesne way franchise ordinance to stand together at the beginning of the council meeting, so that nothing attacking the legality of the adoption of that ordinance might be done, while as soon as that matter was settled there was a new alignment and men who opposed one another at the beginning of the meeting fraternized at the end and worked together.

For example, Councilman William Brand, a Republican, led the fight against the recognition of Gebhart Sahner, a Citizens man, as temporary chairman, in favor of Daniel J. Bole, another Citizens party member, and Mr. Brand was aided by Christian Beckert, Jr., a Citizens man. When the matter was settled, Mr. Brand and other Republicans had to turn in and fight Beckert, who is the man upon whom Director Edward M. Bigelow depends to help defeat sand filtration. Gebhardt Sahner, whom Brand opposed at first, after he was thrown out of the chair lined up with the Bigelow members and tried to delay sand filtration.

Bole Staggered Stevenson.

The eventually recognized chairman, Daniel J. Bole, did something against William H. Stevenson, who was elected on the same ticket, that nobody has ever charged Republican chairmen of councils with doing to their political enemies. Mr. Stevenson rose to a question of personal privilege, which takes precedence over any other business, and Mr. Bole flatly told him he would not recognize him on a personal privilege question. This was too much for Mr. Stevenson, and he left the council chamber.

To understand the situation it must be remembered that on June 13, President Charles S. Crawford of common council, announced that he would be absent from the city all summer, and asked that a temporary chairman be elected to serve during his absence. Gebhart Sahner was elected. He presided over several meetings, signed several ordinances and resolutions that were adopted and was recognized by all until the Duquesne way ordinance came up. Then the majority elected Bole chairman and passed the Duquesne ordinance. Last night's meeting was called to consider the report of the filtration committee of council, and the first question to be decided was whether Sahner or Bole was chairman.

Two Chairmen Tried to Rule.

At 8:08 p. m. the assistant city clerk rapped on the balustrade outside the council chamber, and the councilmen flocked in. Mr. Sahner took the chair, the clerk read the roll, 41 answering to their names, and Mr. Sahner called for the reading the minutes. Mr. Brand arose, and, ignoring Sahner, addressed the clerk and nominated Mr. Bole for chairman. Beckert seconded the nomination, and the clerk, paying no attention to Sahner, put the motion and declared Bole elected. Brand shouted for Bole to take the chair. Bole ascended the platform beside Sahner. Sahner maintained that he was chairman and called for the reading of the minutes of June 13, the meeting at which he was elected. Beckert declared that election was illegal, although he had recognized Sahner at more than one meeting.

Sahner again ordered the clerk to read the minutes of June 13, and then Bole began to entertain motions and to give orders. Councilman William H. Stevenson said the orderly way to do business was to rescind the action of June 15 in electing Sahner, and Brand threatened Stevenson with the sergeant-at-arms. Bole put a motion to dispense with the reading of the minutes, and declared it carried. Ignoring Sahner, the clerk read the call for the meeting, and Bole called on Chairman M. Brown of the filtration committee for his report.

Sahner Was Then Deposed.

Chairman Brown said he had a report ready, but he would not read it until he knew which man on the platform was the chairman. Then he moved to reconsider the action of June 13 in electing Sahner chairman, but as this would have been a recognition of Sahner as chairman and might have vitiated the passage of the Duquesne way ordinance, Brand yelled that Brown was out of order. There was a lively altercation, with Brand on one side and Brown, William B. Wolfe and Stevenson on the other. Brand asked Brown if he would accept the result of a roll call for chairman and Brown said he would, whereupon Brand told Chairman Bole to have the roll called. The roll call went on, while Stevenson was hunting for the city digest to adduce law to favor Sahner's election. On the roll call Sahner's adherents did not vote. Bole received 29 votes, a majority, and Sahner vacated his side of the platform.

Mr. Stevenson then recognized Bole as chairman and called for the reading of the minutes of July 15, the last meeting. This was the meeting at which the Duquesne way ordinance was passed, the proceeding which the Sahner people claim to be illegal. There was great confusion, Brand striving to prevent the reading of the minutes, and Stevenson, who suspected that the record might be "cooked," insisting upon the reading. To prevent the reading a suspension of the rules was necessary, and on this point Mr. Stevenson won, his opponents not having the required three-fourths majority.

Stevenson Left the Chamber.

The clerk began to read the minutes, and glad as far as the call under which the meeting of July 15 was held when Brand moved that so much as had been read be approved. Mr. Stevenson was on his feet with a typewritten document which he proceeded to read as a substitute for the minutes. It was a statement of the meeting of July 15 from Mr. Stevenson's standpoint. It was Brand's object to prevent it from getting on the record and he claimed it was out of order. Chairman Bole promptly decided that his point was well taken. Stevenson taunted the majority with being afraid to have his substitute voted on.

Then Stevenson rose to a question of personal privilege, but Bole ignored him. "Do you know enough about parliamentary law to decide a question of personal privilege?" Stevenson asked the chairman, and Bole, driven into a corner, responded: "I wouldn't give nobody a privilege except Mr. Brand."

Stevenson laughed sarcastically and read the parliamentary rule sustaining his position, but the chairman again ignored him and declared Brand's motion carried. Stevenson, declaring that the rights of the minority were not respected, walked out, followed by ironical calls of "Good-night."

The filtration committee's report was read. It gives a brief history of the filtration movement and of the bond issue, and recommends that the old ordinance providing for an additional issue of $1,219,000 in bonds be referred back to the finance committee; that action be postponed on seven ordinances awarding contracts for the plant; that the director of public works be directed to transmit to councils an estimate of the cost of a sand filtration plant to supply the whole city, the South Side included.

Brown moved to receive and file the report. Councilman Joseph C. Wasson moved to refer it to the finance committee, but his amendment was lost, and Brown's motion was adopted. Councilman John P. Sterrett offered a resolution carrying out the committee's recommendation, directing the director of public works to prepare an estimate of sand filtration plans and appointing a committee of three members from common council and two from select council to act in conjunction with the director, the report to be submitted at the first meeting in September. Mr. Wasson moved to refer the resolution to the committee on finance. Mr. Brand said the committee on finance was a dilatory body, and W. C. Reitz defended the committee. Both were called to order, and Mr. Wasson withdrew his amendment.

Then Mr. Sahner offered a substitute for Dr. Sterrett's resolution. This substitute provided for the appointment of a commission to investigate the filtration question, and if adopted would have been an entering wedge for mechanical filtration. Sahner depended upon Chairman Bole to see that the substitute was adopted, for some people have an idea that Bole was opposed to sand filtration, but Mr. Bole was unable to grasp in a moment the fact that Sahner, since his defeat for chairman, had now become a member of the Citizens majority opposed to sand filtration. Mr. Brand had advised him all through the meeting and he now looked to Mr. Brand for counsel. But Brand is for sand filtration; he saw that Sahner's resolution, if adopted, would delay the matter and, therefore, he discovered that it was not germane to the subject. He told the chairman so and Bole, to Sahner's utter astonishment, decided Brand's point well taken and put the Sterrett resolution to a vote. It was adopted.

Strong Committee for Sand.

Immediately Mr. Bole named Brand, Sterrett and Beckert as members of the committee proposed by Dr. Sterrett. After the meeting had adjourned, Mr. Brand told Chairman Bole his business did not permit him to serve and Mr. Bole named Joseph G. Armstrong. Armstrong is a stronger sand filtration man than Brand. As select council will appoint two sand filtration advocates on the committee, the sand filtration men will control it. Sterrett's resolution is a joint one and of no effect unless adopted by select council.

After the meeting had adjourned, Councilman Wasson said: "I would have preferred, of course, if the whole filtration question had been referred to the finance committee, but, after thinking the matter over, I withdrew my amendment to that effect. The matter is up to Director Bigelow. He is now on his honor, and besides, his plans and estimates, providing as they will for the expenditure of money, will come before the finance committee anyhow. The most important thing was to defeat the movement to delay the whole matter by the appointment of a commission to investigate the whole filtration question over again, and we succeeded in defeating it."

SCENES IN A DOOMED CITY BEFORE ITS FALL

STROLL THROUGH THE DOOMED CITY

How Pompeii Looked on the Last Afternoon of the Day of Its Destruction.

MANUFACTURING FIRE FACES

Men With Whiskers Are Abhorred by the Pyrotechnists—Allegheny Youths Make Rounds of Observation, Also Pertinent Remarks.

"The Last Days of Pompeii," witnessed at night with the accompaniment of fireworks, makes a big and wonderfully realistic spectacle, but to enjoy the fun that goes with the show it is advisable to go in daylight and see the last afternoon of Pompeii. The visitor will see no entrancing ballet then; he can walk in and out of the Temple of Isis with perfect decorum and feel that he is transgressing no ancient tradition, and Mt. Vesuvius will be perfectly harmless.

Yesterday afternoon a reporter for The Gazette gave the pass word to Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., who is acting prefect of the Doomed City, and no trouble was experienced in getting into the forbidden streets of Pompeii. No person would have recognized Exposition park. On the foul lines were two triumphal arches. In the middle of the pitcher's slab stood a wooden statue of Apollo Belvidere. On third base lay a dying gladiator. Everywhere were Roman candles; skyrockets and pinwheels. Behind these ancient scenes were a score of men working heroically to have everything in readiness to destroy the city at 10:30 o'clock in the evening.

Mt. Vesuvius was being elevated to the proper altitude. Underneath, the material for the flow of lava, scoria and volcanic dust was being laid. In that portion of the field where Hans Wagner distinguishes himself, James Cunliffe, general superintendent of the show, was putting the finishing touches on the picture of Mayor Hays, which was to be seen in a halo of fire just as Pompeii would crumble into ruins.

This was interesting work. A photograph of the mayor was taken and ruled into sections squared off like a checker-board. An immense wicker frame was ruled into corresponding sections and M. K. Nash, the artist, deftly drew the lines of the mayor's features over the squares with chalk, and the fireworks men finished the portrait by placing trains of fuse on those lines.

Mayor Hays' picture is a cinch," said one of the workmen. "He has an easy face and we can finish him up in an afternoon. When we get a smooth-shaven, bald-headed man it is like getting a day off to make his fireworks picture, but the saints help us when we get hold of a long-whiskered Jerry. It means an all-day job and then there is danger of causing bald places in his beard. C. M. Schwab is all right, but preserve us from Andrew Carnegie or Thomas S. Bigelow."

A score of barefooted urchins from the First ward, Allegheny, were playing around the rear of the scenery, riding in the Roman conquerer's chariot with sacrilegious merriment. Behind the Temple of Isis stood a row of tents resembling a gypsy camp. Here the inhabitants of Pompeii live and here lovely ballet girls don their classic robes for the final revel. On the last afternoon of Pompeii a few of the girls who were not out looking over the sights of the town, were reading or sewing. Nearby in the cook wagon two men from Ethiopia were making a Hamburger steak and preparing French friend potatoes.

A wooden statue of Venus de Milo attracted a crowd of small boys.

"Say, Heinie," observed one youngster, "did all the ladies in Pompey dress like this one?"

"I dunno," remarked his playmate, "but I heerd people say that they didn't wear no more'n that down at Atlantic City."

"Aw, g'wan! Why, the cops 'ud pinch 'em. It was different in Pompey. That's why they wuz burnt up."

CANAL SEEMS CAUSE OF COUP

Bogota Government Believed to Be at Bottom of Panama Revolt.

IS AFRAID OF SECESSION

Belief Expressed That in Case Colombian Government Rejects the Canal Treaty, Panama Will Independently Ask for Its Construction.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 27.—This government remains completely in the dark as to whether the overthrow of the state government of Panama Saturday night was a purely local disturbance or whether it will have a bearing on the canal project. The opinion was expressed today by an official who has had considerable knowledge of isthmian and Colombian politics that the government at Bogota was at the bottom of the overthrow of the Liberal government in order to get a firmer hold on the isthmus because of the feeling of unrest in the department of Panama over the uncertainty of the canal treaty.

There have been hints that if the canal treaty failed at Bogota the people of Panama, rather than lose the chance of having the United States build the canal, would secede from Colombia, set up a government of their own and ask this government to treat with them. Not a line has come from Consul General Gudger as to the political effect of the revolution. Gudger sent two cable messages today. In his second message he said that the governorship had been tendered but refused and that the situation was grave.

When the state and navy departments closed this evening it had not been determined to send a man-of-war to either Panama or Colon. We have no ships nearer Panama than San Francisco.

A delayed message from Bogota received today says that following the procedure of the house of representatives, which on July 2 referred the canal treaty to a committee, the senate has referred the treaty to a commission for study and investigation.

The commission is composed of the following senators: J. D. Abaldia, J. M. Uricoechea, formerly minister of foreign affairs; Pedro Nelospina, Senor Rivas, Francesco Groot, Eduardo Gerlein, Perez y Soto, J. M. Gonzales Valencia, formerly Colombian minister to Italy; L. F. Campos and Enrique Narvaes.

Perez y Soto is against the treaty and Narvaes votes with ex-President Carto, the leader of the opposition to ratification. Valencia is undecided and Campos has not expressed an opinion. Abaldia, Perez y Soto and Uricoechea are senators from the department of Panama.

Consolidated Lake Superior Company in Critical Financial Condition.

PRESIDENT MAKES APPEAL

Mr. Shields Says That Unless the Proposed Bond Issue Is Taken the Whole Property Must Pass Into the Hands of Creditors.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—President of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company has made another appeal to the stockholders of the company for financial assistance. In a circular letter sent out to the stockholders he announces that unless the proposed $12,500,000 bond issue is taken, the whole property must pass into the hands of creditors.

The creditors are New York and Philadelphia banks, headed by Speyer & Co. of the former city, who hold all available collateral security of the company for three loans amounting to $5,050,000.

The Lake Superior company is capitalized at $102,000,000 of which $70,000,000 is held in this city. President Shields in his appeal says:

"The Consolidated Lake Superior Company is in a critical condition from which it can be rescued only by the prompt and decisive action on the part of the stockholders. By means of the issue of $12,500,000 of 30-year, 4 per cent bonds, there must be provided the full amount of $7,500,000 with which to take care of the temporary loans of $5,050,000 and about $1,500,000 of current debts.

"Unless this entire sum can be provided in some way the whole property must pass into the hands of the creditors, and forced liquidation, with all of the works idle and unproductive, is sure to result in the sacrifice of a great part of the investment. On the other hand, if the $7,500,000 can be provided, the company will be free of its floating indebtedness, with working capital sufficient to carry on its business and in a position to earn double the amount of its fixed charges."

WOUNDED MAN AND WOMAN AND COMMITTED SUICIDE

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Joseph B. Reitz, aged 45, today, angered by jealousy, shot and probably fatally wounded Lillie Jane, aged 32, and seriously wounded the latter's divorced husband, Charles Knapp, aged 34. Reitz then turned the revolver upon himself and committed suicide.

failure there was a spell of semi-demoralization, but it was speedily made apparent that banks were not selling collateral from loans. In fact, they could not have found a market for the stock. Some stocks broke severely—generally the industrials—when the railroads developed strength under the leadership of New York Central and Pennsylvania.

The Important Factors.

The factors which contributed most of all today to the recovery were the cessation of liquidation by the banks, trust companies and foreign banking houses, which had loaned money to Talbot Taylor and W. L. Stow and the covering of contracts by the short interest.

Despite the general sharp recovery, there were some disquieting breaks. Virginia-Carolina Chemical preferred broke 6 points and the common 1½, Minneapolis & St. Louis preferred declined 20 points, falling like a plummet. St. Louis & San Francisco, Chicago & Eastern Illinois certificates fell 8 points further to 150. Hocking Valley lost 3 points, American Cotton Oil preferred 8 points and American Hide and Leather preferred 2.

Attorney Louis B. Rolston, assignee, took charge of the Hooley affairs and said he had consulted with the members of the firm, but would not be in a position for several days to make any statement of the firm's financial condition. The liabilities are placed at $3,000,000. The firm of Edwin S. Hooley & Co. consisted of Edwin S. Hooley, Frank S. Brumley, the stock exchange member who bought his seat on May 13, 1901.

Taylor May Resume.

There seemed to be a feeling in the office of Talbot J. Taylor & Co. that the firm would resume business in a very short time. Assignee Britt had telephonic communication during the day with several of the secured and unsecured creditors and it was announced that the creditors of both classes evinced no disposition to force matters. The firm's unsecured liabilities, not including James S. Keene's $1,500,000, will amount to something less than $500,000. The firm's gross liabilities are less than $8,000,000. The cash in bank was $85,000.

William Bassett Who Failed Yesterday Leaves $3,000,000 Unsecured Debts.

BOSTON, July 27.—(Special.)—Because of the general decline in the security market, William Bassett, whose offices are in the Exchange building, announced his suspension this morning. The failure is due not to Mr. Bassett's speculations in the Boston market, but to the condition of the market in New York. Mr. Bassett being also a member of the exchange in that city. George R. Nutter of Brandis, Dunbar & Nutter, has been appointed assignee. At 2 o'clock he gave out the following statement:

"The amount of secured indebtedness is in the neighborhood of $9,000,000, and of unsecured in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. It is not possible to give any estimate as yet of the value of the assets."

Yesterday's Smallpox Record.

Newell Davenport, a colored man, 28 years old, died of smallpox yesterday, after being in the municipal hospital only a few days. His home was at No. 23 Congress street. The new cases reported yesterday were: Florence Mills of No. 135 South Eighteenth street; Kate Cunningham, No. 2 Stockdale avenue; James Towns, rear of No. 3250 Dixon street; Lulu Stewart, No. 2834 Ridge street; Alexander Parker, No. 2470 Wadsworth street, and Henry Scott, No. 2440 Bismark street.

A STRONG STATEMENT AND WE PROVE IT.

When you need a medicine you should get the best. We sell thousands of different medicines prepared to cure various ailments, but we have never sold a medicine which we think so highly of or which we have heard so many good words about as DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY.

It will positively cure any disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood. If the case is curable. It will do more than that as you will see when you use it.

Mrs. Nora Baker, who lives at 1 Bedford place, Pittsburgh then C. E. Dudenhaver of 548 Cora street, Brushton, Pittsburgh. Read what he has to say of this excellent medicine: "Last fall I developed an aggravated case of catarrh. A number of doctors treated me with no permanent result. I was compelled to resign my position on account of my declining health. One day I saw across an advertisement of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I concluded to try, and I began to improve in health soon after I began its use and I did not have to continue long until I was cured.

My wife had been troubled with the same complaint most of her life and upon my suggestion used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured.

We sell this great medicine in two sizes at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle, and believe that any one suffering from any of the terribly painful and dangerous diseases for which it is prepared, will, after using it, thank us for recommending it to them.

PEACE PLANS MAY BE SIDE-TRACKED

Present Indications Are More Favorable to a Fight Than to a Political Fix-Up.

NEGOTIATIONS NEAR AN END

Ultimatum of the Republicans Said to Have Been Given to the Citizens. Answer from Bigelow Is to Come Today.

While political leaders on both sides are doing little talking about the success of the harmony plans, there is more likelihood of a fight than a fix-up this fall. From present indications negotiations are near an end.

Communications passed between the two political camps yesterday and nothing was accomplished. After a long conference with Thomas S. Bigelow and Mayor W. B. Hays, during the afternoon, Murry A. Verner announced that the proposition presented to the Republicans on Friday would be again offered today in a modified form.

"When I returned to the city this morning," said Mr. Verner, "I learned that the proposition made by the Citizens to the Republicans had been rejected. This afternoon the Republicans told us what they would do. Mayor Hays and I called upon Mr. Bigelow and together we considered the proposition. It was decided to return the Friday proposition in a modified form. If our plan is accepted, it will take some time to work out the details, but if the proposition is rejected, we are done."

Republicans generally, in the discussion of a harmony basis, have insisted that Thomas S. Bigelow would have to retire from politics. It is probable that the success of the present negotiations will hinge on the retirement of the head of the Citizens party. According to his friends, he is said to be unwilling to see the necessity of such action.

Today's developments will doubtless determine whether there is to be peace or a fight this fall. According to the political gossips, the proposition carried to Mr. Bigelow yesterday by the mayor and Mr. Verner was generally considered an ultimatum on the part of the Republicans. According to Mr. Verner the proposition he will submit today is the final offering of the Citizens.

A RETALIATORY PLAN IS FORMED

Crusade in Wilkinsburg to Counteract Work of the Committee of Twelve.

MORE PROSECUTIONS COMING

Another Dispute Is Likely to Rise Over the Question of the Hour of Making Informations—Burgess Keys Hears Cases Today.

Prosecutions of the druggists of Wilkinsburg, for selling soda water on Sunday, have aroused public sentiment to such an extent, that a crusade in opposition to the committee of 12 will be waged against all Sunday work and selling in the borough. Many citizens take the view that the drug men should not be selected alone, and out of these ranks will be recruited an element that will attempt to make the committee of 12 not distinguish between flesh and fish. Those in a position to know, say that the newspapers will be first prosecuted as they are the "vital" interests. Information has already been procured against street car companies, factories and even a minister's son, who is said to work on Sunday.

Some of these informations, it is thought, may be made today, although no one could be found last night to speak with authority. The druggists are not in any way connected with the present movement, it is said, although their cases are directly responsible for the feeling. Last week informations were made against an ice, plaster and milk company by two people generally unknown to the residents of Wilkinsburg. It has been learned that they were acting in the interests of the new "party" which at that time was just coming to life. These warrants are still good, although they have not been served.

This morning at 9 o'clock Burgess John A. Keys will hear cases against seven of the leading druggists for violating the blue law last Sunday. These informations were made by the committee of 12. The informations made against the same druggists by parties friendly thereto, before Justice Walker, will come up for a hearing Wednesday night. Attorneys for the druggists claim that the informations made before Justice Walker were signed five seconds past midnight of Sunday, and it now remains to be determined at which time the informations of the committee of 12 were made, before Burgess Keys can give a decision.

TWO WOMEN AND BABIES WERE PLACED IN JAIL.

Mothers Held on Illegal Liquor Selling Charges—Woman Fainted at Hearing.

Mrs. Margaret Murray and Mrs. Murray Coyne were the first victims of Director Harry Moore's order that women once fined for selling liquor without a license shall be held for court when the second offense is charged against them. Their houses in the Oakland district were raided by the police Sunday for the second time, and Inspector Milton E. Bailey charged them before Alderman E. C. Negley with selling liquor without a license. The constable took the women to the jail yesterday, both women carrying infants. The mothers and the babies were locked up, Warden Lewis giving orders that on account of the babies they should be made as comfortable as possible. They were unable to furnish the $500 bail each.

At the hearing at central police station yesterday, Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart, much against his will, was obliged to discharge Lloyd Sterling, a woman charged with illegal liquor selling. Roy Fraker, Superintendent McTighe's chief clerk, had testified the morning before, at the hearing of a man whose arrest he had ordered, that he had bought beer in the Sterling woman's house. The house, therefore, was raided on Sunday and Fraker was told to appear against the woman yesterday morning. He failed to attend the hearing. Director Harry Moore may decide to take up the case again. He said the house would be ordered closed and kept closed.

Grace Mackey, a woman accused of selling liquor, fainted at the hearing. After recovering consciousness she was fined $100 for selling liquor without a license.

MANY WORKINGMEN QUIT.

Employment of a Non-Union Hoisting Engineer Caused Serious Trouble.

The business agents of the various trades affiliated with the Building Trades council, visited nearly all work under contract of the A. & S. Wilson Company yesterday, and instructed the men to quit work. The contracting firm refused to sign the scale of the hoisting engineers and to employ only men affiliated with the union. According to the business agents about 500 men were ordered out.

A member of the A. & S. Wilson Company said last night the trouble is not under its jurisdiction. The engineers the union say are non-union are employed by another firm. The company is general contractor and has sub-let portions of the work. He said the firm would not accede to the demands of the men.

The Master Builders' association, of which the A. & S. Wilson Company is a member, will probably take the matter up tomorrow. The general strike was precipitated last Thursday, when the men employed on the Horne building struck because a non-union hoisting engineer was at work.

Meetings of the Mine Workers.

Meetings of the United Mine Workers will be held this evening at Brazenell, the speakers to be Vice President Uriah Bellingham and Organizer William Little. Meetings will be held also tonight at Elizabeth and Imperial. President Patrick Dolan will speak at the former and John Fisher at the latter place. Thursday night a meeting will be held at the Hazel mines, Canonsburg; Friday, meetings at Hazel Kirk, Dunkirk, Voorhes and Monongah. Saturday a meeting takes place at Avonmore. A meeting was held last night at Leechburg.

Bread Will Be Labeled Hereafter.

The bakers' strike was declared off yesterday by the firms granting the request of the men. They struck a week ago, demanding that every loaf of bread have a union label pasted on. The bakers refused to grant the request and made an effort to secure men to fill the places of the strikers. Most of the men returned to work yesterday morning.

Strike Was Not Serious.

The strike of the curb and flagstone cutters and setters, did not turn out to be serious. Several of the contractors agreed to the new scale as arranged last week. The men who were called out will probably return to work tomorrow, as the contractors are said to be willing to attach their signatures to the agreement.

Lutherans on the Sunday Soda Fountain.

At a meeting of the Lutheran ministers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny yesterday the sale of soda water on Sunday was disapproved. The ministers placed themselves on record as being strongly opposed to the selling. The Rev. J. B. Markward of Wilkinsburg, where a campaign is being waged, was quite outspoken about it, declaring it to be a shame and a disgrace.

YOUNG NEGRESS IS CHARGED WITH ARSON

Stable of William Grubbs in Aspinwall Burned to Ground and Servant Is Accused.

Charged with arson, Ada Edwards, a young negress, aged 14 years, of Aspinwall, was lodged in the Allegheny county jail last night. The girl is accused of setting fire to a stable three times, the last time destroying the building, and of setting fire to a wash-house. She is said to have used coal oil to further her purpose. Ada may be charged with other unexplained fires in Aspinwall.

The negress was employed as a servant in the home of William Grubbs in Aspinwall. To the rear of the residence stood a fine stable sheltering valuable horses and vehicles. Three times during the past 10 days the barn has been discovered in flames. The last time was last Thursday, when the stable burned to the ground. The horses were rescued but the loss was heavy.

Last Saturday night the wash-house of John Cowan, in Aspinwall, was discovered in flames. It is said Ada Edwards set fire to it and then ran away. The fire died out and Ada was discovered when about to apply a match to it again. The wash-house was saturated with coal oil and the oil can owned by the Grubbs family was discovered in the cellar of the house, empty.

Mr. Grubbs made information against the young negress before Justice W. P. Lowry of Aspinwall and she was committed to jail. She had been with the Grubbs family about a year and enjoyed a good reputation.

Local Total Abstinence Society Completes Program for the National Convention.

Interest in the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union, which will open on August 5 in Pittsburgh, is increasing, and the members of the union in the Pittsburgh diocese having charge of the arrangements expect the largest crowd at the coming convention that has assembled since the national society was established. The sessions will be held at the Duquesne theater on August 5, 6 and 7. The Rev. Father John G. Beane, president of the society of the local diocese, is in charge of the arrangements. He is being assisted by prominent Catholics in Pittsburgh. The headquarters for some weeks past have been at No. 333 Fourth avenue.

The delegates will arrive in Pittsburgh on August 4. Business meetings, church services and pleasure trips will be held daily. At the close of the Friday morning session the delegates will be given a ride up the Monongahela river and also visit the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock.

Letters were received yesterday from Senator Boies Penrose and the bishop of New York that they will be unable to attend. Both expressed their earnest wishes for the advancement of the work undertaken by the union.

EXPOSITION FURNITURE.

The Great Grand Rapids Exposition of Sample Furniture Brought to Pittsburgh and on Exhibition at Pickering's.

The semi-annual exhibition of furniture held at Grand Rapids, Mich, comprises samples of each article of furniture made by all the manufacturers in the great furniture manufacturing center of the Northwest. Naturally each manufacturer strives to get some new and catching pattern or design each season, and finishes his exhibition pieces as fine as possible; hence, the samples are more desirable than the usual run of stock. Mr. Pickering, having secured the samples for his customers at a price much below their market value, he is able to sell them at less than the regular stock will be sold for when they arrive later. See them next week.

TAFFETA SILK SHIRTWAIST SUITS, $10.50

This morning we place on sale 60 fine silk suits that represent the last of a noted maker's Summer production.

These are extremely varied in color, owing to their being made of short lengths of silks—one reason why the price is so extremely low.

These dresses are made with waist tucked from shoulder to bust line, three box pleats in front, turnover stock with tab front, tucked back and large sleeves; the skirt has three box pleats in front and graduated tucks on hips and hem.

The colors represented in one or more are

Ruby with white hair stripe;
White with blue checks and stripes;
White with black checks and stripes;
Blue with white dots;
White with tan stripes;
Royal with white stripes.

And several sizes of black and white shepherd checks.

All in all the most varied collection of colorings we have ever shown.

Of course you want to know the former price—and you shall: $22.50.

Such suits for $10.50—or rather the 60 suits—are not apt to last long. Hadn't you better see them this morning?

The Russian government should be given credit for the action of the bishop of Kishineff in instructing the clergy of his diocese to use their influence to allay anti-Semitic hatred. The orders came from the chief ecclesiastical authority, which is under government control. There can be no doubt that Russia feels the sting of the reprobation of the civilized world, and will be cautious to prevent any more outbreaks like the one at Kishineff.

Wall street appeared to have regained its nerve yesterday afternoon. At any rate there was good support and a notable reaction. Possibly it is realized that stocks are much cheaper than they were last winter, when everybody thought them worth buying. Possibly it is only a reaction. In either case it is worth remembering that business out of "the street" is good and somewhat more certain than the kind of business they do "in the street."

Although another stock exchange house went down in New York yesterday there was nothing in the result to excite the bears to cheering, as the market was not perceptibly affected. The depression affects the foreign stock market also, as the decline in the value of American securities affects American credit abroad. European securities show a stability not justified by actual superior value, but the currency system abroad does not facilitate bear raids.

A point that certainly ought to be taken into consideration by the ministers who are denouncing Sunday sales of soda water, is what the people are going to do on Sunday to quench their thirst. There is nothing they can drink so dangerous as the river water. The risk of typhoid fever goes with every glass. If people on a warm Sunday are to be debarred from going to a drug store for a glass of soda water, what are they to do? Does religion require that they should drink polluted river water, or else go thirsty, if away from home and unsupplied with boiled and filtered drinking water?

The growth of southern industrial interests has wrought a great change of tariff sentiment in that section, and southern Democratic papers are qualifying their position accordingly. Free trade principles are being scouted and the tariff-for-revenue-only doctrine is being turned down as implying free trade policy. The Washington Post bluntly declares that the country "has no more use for a 'revenue only' tariff than it has for 16 to 1." The southern press, as a rule, have not reached that degree of candor, but they are emphasizing incidental protection as an essential feature of tariff revision.

The voyage of the Kearsarge, from Portsmouth, England, to Bar Harbor, Maine, puts it well in the class of the Oregon as a speeder. The trip of 2,900 miles was made in a little more than nine days, the best time across the Atlantic ever made by a battleship of the first class. There were delays, caused by fog and proximity of icebergs. It is safe to say that if the Kearsarge had been on an errand of mercy to the afflicted, as was the Oregon on its famous cruise, the trans-Atlantic time would have been reduced by several hours. As it is the Kearsarge has proven itself a thoroughly serviceable vessel in a steaming way. We doubt not it is equally worthy as a fighting ship, but hope it will be many years ere it is put to the test for that quality. It has been better employed lately in exchanging friendly greetings.

While the Colombian government is considering the Panama treaty, the practical value of the jurisdiction for which the United States offers $10,000,000 is shown by the fact that the governor has had to take refuge under the American flag, and the rest of the civil government is in the hands of mutinous troops. It may be necessary for our government to land marines there again in discharge of our treaty obligations to keep the isthmus open to commerce. When we already had that treaty right it was a great stupidity on the part of congress to provide that our purchase of the franchises and property of the Panama Canal Company should be conditioned upon the negotiation of a new treaty with Colombia. We put ourselves in the worst possible position for conducting the negotiation and are paying for our folly.

The royal progress through Ireland has been marked by scenes of great popular enthusiasm. King Edward's tact and urbanity have always recommended him to the people wherever he goes, and even the traditional hostility of Ireland to British rule has not diminished the gratification afforded by his presence. It is something like the excitement produced by a presidential tour, but more intense, because a royal progress is much more of a rarity, and there is still something of a glamour in kingship, even if it has become a sort of hereditary presidency, with less actual authority than our elective presidency. Yesterday the king and queen were in the loyalist citadel of Ireland, the capital of Ulster, and there, of course, the welcome was particularly emphatic in enthusiasm. The royal tour of Ireland can hardly fail to have some political influence, and it happens at a time when a settlement of the land question is pending that is generally conceded to be final and complete. Irish landlordism will be succeeded by a peasant proprietary that will probably develop a strong conservative interest in politics opposed to radical change. The cause of home rule seems to have entered upon a period of decline, as powerful new influences are being developed in favor of the maintenance of the union. If England adopts the new protective policy advocated by Chamberlain, agricultural Ireland will be a direct and immediate gainer. Political interest has a way of following economic interest, and home market privileges once made valuable by the protective policy will constitute a powerful argument against political separation.

Some Progress Made.

All things considered, common council made some progress in the filtration matter at the meeting last night. The practical results are all favorable to taking up the project for sand filtration and pushing it to completion, though the division in councils was too even to make that verdict emphatic. Upon the proposition to refer the issue of new bonds to the finance committee there was no difference of opinion. On the question of referring the entire subject to the finance committee, where it should have gone, the mechanical filtration crowd won, and had the report of the filtration committee adopted as a whole by councils. On the resolutions to give effect to that report the sand filtration men had the best of the argument, adopting that one which instructs the director of public works, assisted by a committee of councils, to prepare complete estimates of the cost of sand filtration, but defeating the other for the appointment of a new commission to "investigate."

As the matter now stands it is up to select council to adopt the resolutions. When that is done it will be the duty of Director Edward M. Bigelow to proceed with the preparation of estimates. It is not likely the finance committee will do anything with the bond proposition until it has the estimates before it. That means an indefinite delay. It is not as bad, however, as if council had provided for another commission to investigate. It is not as well as if the whole subject had been sent to the finance committee, where estimates of cost and the propriety of issuing more bonds might have been considered, pending the resumption of both branches of councils after the summer vacation.

It should be possible, however, to get a special meeting of select council to consider the matter soon. If so, the remainder of the vacation period should suffice for the preparation of the estimates, so that councils may act promptly in September. There is reason to believe the available funds are sufficient for present requirements. Future needs can be met by the addition of more filter beds at no greater proportionate cost. Above all it must not be forgotten that every day of delay adds to the terrible penalty that is being paid in death and disease from the terrible typhoid fever.

Boer Government.

Differences between Boers and representatives of the British government have become so acute in the Orange river and Transvaal colonies that Gen. Botha is said to have threatened to stand for parliament in some British constituency for the purpose of getting the grievances of his people before the courts of public opinion of Great Britain. The present trouble is no less with the local British administration than with the British government, for at the root of the difference is said to be the determination of the government to hold the former Boer republics as crown colonies, or, in other words, to govern them from London through appointed officials, who will be supported by a military force of 25,000 men. When Colonial Secretary Chamberlain was in South Africa a few months ago he gave the Boers reason to hope that they would have representation on an advisory council, and something of the sort had even been held out to them as an inducement during the peace negotiations. There is great disappointment among the Boers that what they have accepted as promises are not to be carried forward as they expected they would be, and Gen. Botha is out in an open letter charging bad faith and making the threat mentioned. The changed attitude toward the Boers is perhaps explainable on the assumption of the British authorities that they have not met British advances half way, but have shown resentfulness and an indisposition to get along harmoniously with the Britons, who have been emigrating to the conquered territories since the close of the war. It was not to have been expected, however, that the race antagonism of generations would die out all at once, but they cannot be put to sleep by a policy which the Boers will regard as one of bad faith and injustice. Repression will not cure the dissatisfaction that exists. Concession is the proper course, and if Great Britain has not learned this from her own history much has been forgotten that at once ought to be recalled. If Gen. Botha is in earnest in his threat to seek election to the English parliament, it may be accepted as an indication that a considerable number of Boers will not follow Gen. Joubert to Mexico and other leaders to other points in the new world, but will remain on their farms to fight it out. Therefore, the British government will be wise to return to the policy of conciliation announced earlier and to adhere to it, not for the purpose of keeping Gen. Botha out of parliament, but as a peace measure in the interest of South Africa and the empire. It might be a good thing, though, if Gen. Botha would succeed in being elected to parliament. Public opinion has powerful weight in England, and a place in parliament would give him a rostrum from which to influence it. If things are not going right in the former Boer republics it is probably due to misunderstandings that easily lead to injustice, and injustice may be averted and misunderstandings cleared away by the light Botha would be able to shed upon the situation as a member of parliament. If public opinion could be led even in a measure to see matters as Botha and the Boers see them, public opinion would soon compel a redress of grievances.

A Dead Reform.

The city charter provides that subordinate officers and clerks may be removed from office by heads of departments only by written order, giving their reasons therefor. It also provides that "no appointments or any promotion of any subordinate officials shall be lawful, except when made under and in pursuance of rules and regulations providing for the ascertainment of the comparative fitness of all applicants for appointment or promotion by a systematic, open and competitive examination for such office, which rules and regulations it shall be the duty of the mayor and heads of departments to make and promulgate as speedily as possible."

Although the charter has now been in force two years, no step has yet been taken to comply with this requirement of law. At present a systematic evasion is reported to be in practice. The law applies to all subordinate officials, "excepting only of assistants or laborers employed for special or temporary purpose." The whole public service has been brought within this exemption clause. Instead of appointments to office, assignments to duty are made, terminable at pleasure. These assignments to duty are not made public, and there is now no public record of city employes. Those on the payroll have a sense of uncertainty of position and precariousness of tenure never known before in the municipal service. All subordinates are in the position of temporary assistants, who may be dropped at any time, and changes do occur in this way without notice or hearing. By this method the civil service requirements of the charter are practically annulled, the servile dependence of public employes upon political favor is more complete than ever before. Every subordinate official is placed in such a position as to make him aware that if he should happen to offend anyone with a political pull he is liable to be dropped at a moment's notice, without hearing or explanation. Thus the practical effect of the civil service provisions of the charter has been to give the spoils system the most extreme development it has ever had in the municipal service.

Probing on a New Lead.

It develops that the visit of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow to the president at Oyster Bay was in connection with a new lead in the investigation, affecting the "syndicate of promotion," which has kept itself in the background. Mr. Bristow has his orders from President Roosevelt to go ahead and to let no guilty man escape. Those who know these two men will have no doubt about the probe being sunk to the bottom.

Meantime, the Democratic newspapers have formulated the charge that the administration is maneuvering so the statute of limitations shall intercede to save Perry S. Heath, former first assistant postmaster general. That is simply a campaign story. Nothing has developed to warrant a prosecution of Mr. Heath. The probe has been run in his direction with as much vigor as in any other direction, and the only reason he has not been prosecuted is because nothing has been disclosed that would warrant the step. The bitterness shown toward Heath is purely partisan and due to the fact that he is connected with the Republican national committee.

It may be the postoffice department scandal will prove injurious to the Republican party. If it does it will not be because any one is being shielded by President Roosevelt or Mr. Bristow. They are evidently determined to clean up the department and clean out the grafters of every grade, without regard to their party affiliations or standing. Such a course ought to do the party good. We believe it will. But whether it does party good or harm it is right, and the desperate efforts of the Democratic press to make it appear that men are being shielded who are not, indicates their belief that the investigation is too thorough to make political capital for the Democratic party.

Reading Dime Novels.

Many great and good men have read dime novels. At some period in his life nearly every man has read them, says the Buffalo Express. Some of them have continued their liking for this class of literature after their boyhood days. Senator Hoar is one. He is said to read dime novels, for recreation, to rest his mind from the more serious subjects with which he deals ordinarily. He doubtless finds in them a hero, no end of action, and the final triumph of virtue. These are what boys—big and little—like. Doubtless dime novels have done some harm in the world. But so have the goody-goody books with which Sunday school libraries are so well supplied. The wishy-washy boys and girls who figure in them, and the inane things they do, are enough to fill any boy in whose veins runs real blood with disgust at that sort of life. Dime novels do not necessarily make heroes out of criminals; if they do they are reprehensible. Neither are dime novels necessarily in lurid paper covers. Many stories, which in the years gone by would come under the head of dime novels, are now contained in bound covers and cost more than 10 cents. But they have all the characteristics of the dime novel. And moreover, they are mighty good reading.

Passing of Bryanism.

The refusal of the Iowa Democrats in convention assembled to reaffirm the Kansas City platform is the most significant political action of the year so far as the minority party is concerned, says the Detroit Free Press. While the Iowa Democrats never equaled their brethren of Nebraska and Missouri in the matter of devotion to the heaven-born ratio, they have been loyal to Mr. Bryan and to the party platform. Under the leadership of Horace Boies, they were fighting for the free coinage of silver before Mr. Bryan's name was known outside the city limits of Lincoln, Neb., and their final repudiation of the Kansas City platform means that they were convinced at last that the money fight is finished so far as it relates to the standard of value. What Iowa has done, most of the other states will do, and unless Mr. Bryan catches the spirit of political progress he will find himself a leader without a party and without a following. No party can live in the past and subsist off dead issues. Men will not follow a leader who has nothing to offer but the memory of a lost cause. It is possible to inflame their imagination by references to Arcola and Austerlitz, but not by references to Moscow and Leipsic.

"CROOKED JAKE."

Useto call him "Crooked Jake"
When he come here first.
My! You'd think his back 'u'd break—
He was bent the worst!
Legs was crooked; arms was, too;
Mouth was in a twist
Like a grin stuck on 'ith glue;
Hand tied in a fist.
Laws! Us fellers 'u'd tantalize
"Crooked Jake" an' his solemn eyes.

Solemn eyes? Say, that was queer.
Wan't no laugh in them;
They was peaceful like, an' clear—
Clear as any gem.
Us boys useto tag along
When he'd wabble past,
Jokin' him. I know 'twas wrong—
Found it out at last.
Yes, it give us a good su'prise—
"Crooked Jake" an' his solemn eyes.

Gen'ral Sherman one day went Through here on the cars.
"Crooked Jake," all warped and bent,
He was there. My stars!
Sherman, he reached for his hand,
Give it one long shake;
"Best man was in my command!
Glad to see you, Jake!"
All th' glory o' paradise
Seemed to shine in them solemn eyes.

Seems 'at Jake in some big fight
Where they took our flag
Sailed right in 'ith all his might—
Fetched it back—a rag!
Shot to pieces—been crooked since;
Wabbles in his gait—
Not a step out makes him wince,
But his fame's on straight.
* * * *
Some of us tried to apologize,
But Jake just looked 'ith his solemn eyes!

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

"Here I lie at the chancel door—
Here I lie because I'm poor;
The further in the more you pay—
Here I lie as warm as they."

So reads a philosophical epitaph in Kingsbridge Parish church, England.

The author of this was a philosopher, sure, and he is, in all probability, having a good, quiet time—not merely in his grave, but in the other and larger life. The epitaph proves clearly that he was not a kicker, and that is one of the qualifications for a life in heaven, for there are no kickers there, because where kickers are heaven cannot be.

According to John Milton's "Paradise Lost," the kickers were put out—put out because they kicked, and kicked because they were put out. Of the boss kicker's fall the poet says:

"From morn
To noon he fell, from noon to dewy eve,
A summer's day; and with the setting sun
Dropp'd from the zenith like a falling star."

And that is how the kicker came.

* * * * *

Milton got off some pretty good ones, even if there was no yellow literature in his day—at least it didn't go by that name. His description of Mammon—you know what Mammon is, having heard of it in sermon, song and story—is worth quoting, even at this late and prosperous day:

"Mammon, the least erected spirit that fell
From heaven; for even in heaven his looks and thoughts
Were always downward bent, admiring more
The riches of heaven's pavements, trodden gold,
Than aught divine or holy else enjoy'd
In vision beatific."

What a time there must have been in heaven when the kickers and malcontents were put out—yes, sir, put out, bag and baggage. No doubt the confusion was greater than that seen by Byron—in his mind—the night before Waterloo, when

"There was a sound of revelry by night,
And Belgium's capital had gather'd there,
Her beauty and her chivalry, and bright
The lamps shone o'er fair women and brave men."

But listen to a few snatches from Milton's story of the kickers in heaven:

"Sonorous metal blowing martial sounds,
At which the universal host up sent
A shout that tore hell's concave, and beyond
Frighted the reign of Chaos and old Night."

Things had evidently been running at a rapid rate, and high, and everyone getting rich, the same as we earthlings are, or want to be, even with this injunction from our recording poet:

"Let none admire
That riches grow in hell; that soil may best
Deserve the precious bane."

Anyway, the big chief, the mogul, the boss kicker, the great peace disturber, was reigning and ruling in fine style,

"High on a throne of royal state, which far
Outshone the wealth of Ormus and of Ind,
Or where the gorgeous east with richest hand
Showers on her kings barbaric pearl and gold,
Satan, exalted sat, by merit rais'd
To that bad eminence."

And how like the moguls of whom we have more modern accounts, or who are our own contemporaries. Note the bluff he puts up:

"With grave
Aspect he rose, and in his rising seem'd
A pillar of state; deep on his front engraven
Deliberation sat, and public care;
And princely counsel in his face yet shown,
Majestic though in ruin; sage he stood,
With Atlantean shoulders, fit to bear
The weight of mightiest monarchies; his look
Drew audience and attention still as night,
Or summer's noontide air."

Wonder if that is where some of our modern men of modern greatness got their pointers on correct form? And when he stood up all stood up, just as now when the king of a nation stands up, or even a political or social king—bee, and

"Their rising all at once was as the sound
Of thunder heard remote."

A mogul of proper style and correct form has more than one shape—must needs have in order to be on both sides.

"The other shape,
If shape it might be call'd, that shape had none
Distinguishable in member, joint or limb;
Or substance might be call'd that shadow seem'd,
For each seem'd either—black it stood as night,
Fierce as ten furies, terrible as hell,
And shook a terrible dart; what seem'd his head
The likeness of a kingly crown had on.
Satan was now at hand."

It was a big bluff, and had been going on for a long time, but it couldn't go on, like the brook, forever. Only that which is good and pure and lovely can go on forever. But he got his dose:

"On a sudden open fly,
With impetuous recoil and jarring sound,
The infernal doors, and on their hinges grate
Harsh thunder."

* * * * *

Tough, that, but Satan was a politician shrewd, an astute diplomatist, a born ruler. And so strong, this passion to rule, that next to reigning in heaven he preferred to rule in hell. But that was easy enough, for wherever he ruled was hell, or rather, where he rules is hell, for he is still doing business.

And it so happened that while looking up business, he discovered Adam and Eve, just newly wed, clad in innocence alone, with God as nearest neighbor.

"And happy constellations on that hour
Shed their selectest influence; the earth
Gave signs of gratulation, and each hill;
Joyous the birds; fresh gales and gentle airs
Whispered it to the woods, and from their wings
Flung rose, flung odors from the shrub."

"Squat like a toad, close at the ear of Eve" sat Satan—the mean old thing. Good Ishmael touched him with his spear of celestial temper to remind him that he could not rule on earth as he had tried to rule in heaven. And Satan then resolved that if he couldn't rule he would ruin. Nor was it because he didn't know any better, nor couldn't foresee the happiness in store for these fair children of God, for Milton says:

"Abashed the devil stood,
And felt how awful goodness is, and saw
Virtue in her shape how lovely."

* * * * *

That same old Satan is still doing business, and of the same sort, and lots of it, as you may have opportunity, or even have reason, to know.

And there are others, as we may say, who seem to follow his style. That they are exactly in cahoots with him one cannot say, but their actions are so much like his that there are good grounds for suspecting, if not firmly believing, that they are possessed of his spirit, or of a spirit like unto it.

At whose ear hath not Satan sat squat like an ugly, venomous toad and whispered meanness, trembling with soft, honeyed words, and promising pleasure or profit as a reward for disobeying the commands of love, and ignoring the promised rewards of virtue?

Thank heaven love does not weary, nor hath the patience of God a narrow limit. If only the victim of Satan's wiles will learn to love and strive to do well, all will be well.

"Nor love thy life, nor hate; but what thou liv'st
Live well; how long or short permit to heaven.
"So may'st thou live, till like ripe fruit thou drop Into thy mother's lap."
—Paradise Regained.

A National Art Gallery.

The proposition to establish a national gallery of art at Washington to which J. Pierpont Morgan and other wealthy men will contribute their almost priceless art treasures may not take well with the bewhiskered Populists of the wild and woolly west and those persons in other parts of the country who imagine nothing patriotic can emanate from millionaires, but it will be pleasantly received by all lovers of the artistic and beautiful. The United States is destined to lead the world in commerce; it should lead, also, in time in literature, in art, in all the nobler undertakings of mankind. A national art gallery would be an inspiration to the whole nation. The cost would be trifling compared to the benefits to be derived.—Nashville American.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 27.—New Yorkers have become used to seeing the encroachments of commerce in neighborhoods which have for nearly a century been sacred to private residence. Now it is West Twenty-third street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, which is beginning to suffer. Time was when this locality was the quintessence of all that was exclusive, aristocratic and cultured, where "carriage folk" abided and man servants in coffee-colored or purple livery would be found at nearly every door. A few of the old families still live in the row on the north side, where there are long gardens between the street and the fronts of the houses, and where heavy square pillars separate one home from another and give a solemn brick-and-mortar privacy to each domicile. Only a few private families are there, however. Most of the houses are given up to "mealers" or "roomers," and there is an air of dejection and ever-threatening poverty which was absent so late as a decade ago. On the other side of Twenty-third street there are boarding houses, almost exclusively. It is on this south side that the beginning of the end is indicated by the tearing out of a parlor front to put in a store. It will be the first one in the very long block, unless you count the restaurant at the corner of Tenth avenue, but, of course, it will be followed by others, and in a very few years Twenty-third street will be as busy a commercial thoroughfare at the west end as it is already from Third avenue to Eighth. The old families are dying off or moving uptown, and when a few more leases fall in enterprise will attack the north side of the thoroughfare as well as the south, and there will be nothing but stores where lectured wealth majestically existed in the last generation.

Another Year to Finish Bridge.

How far toward completion the new East river bridge has progressed is shown by a photograph taken from the Brooklyn, or Williamsburg, approach. So far as can be seen from that point of view, the bridge is nearly ready for traffic. One of the footways is finished as to its foundation, although the actual paving is yet to be done. The thousands of tons of steel girders are in place, and although one cannot see how things look where the structure crosses the river, it is easy to accept the promise of the contractors that the bridge will be in use long before this time next year.

Sons of Judea Honor the Pope.

A curious exemplification of the broad-mindedness of this age, as compared with that which prevailed in times gone by, is the general respect shown to the memory of the late pope in this city. Most of the large commercial buildings broke out flags at half-mast last week. This was particularly noticeable at establishments where the members of the firm are all orthodox Hebrews. Business is business, however, and respect to the pontiff is not confined to any religion. Still, who would have thought of Judea showing reverence to the vicar of Christ in the days when religious tolerance was unknown and martyrdom for their faith was as common among the Jews as any other class?

Astor Seeks Speedier Yacht.

John Jacob Astor has just finished expending $100,000 on his palatial steam yacht, Nourmahal, but he is not satisfied even now, it seems. Report says that he is contemplating the building of another pleasure vessel, which not only shall be as large as Nourmahal, but a great deal speedier.

New Yorkers Just As Curious As Ever.

A man, an Italian laborer apparently, was knocked down by a Broadway car at Thirty-sixth street this morning. It was earlier in the day than when the full crowd of Rialto loungers is abroad, but there were a thousand persons about the poor fellow by the time the ambulance arrived. New York must maintain its reputation for being able to gather a larger crowd in quicker time than any other city in the United States.

Office Boys a Scarce Article.

The statement that there is a scarcity of office boys in Manhattan has occasioned much astonishment. It was supposed by most people that the office boy was too numerous ever to become scarce, and that the putting of a card "Boy Wanted" in any business window would bring a score of young gentlemen, eager to work for $3 a week. Managers of employment agencies say not, however. They admit that there are some boys to be obtained, but that a really desirable lad, who will attend to his work without perpetually watching the clock for quitting time, and will not know more than his employer at the end of the first week, is hard to find. It is not to be supposed from this that boys from other cities should hustle down to New York to take vacant places. What the average mailless man wants here before all else is a boy familiar with the city, and that familiarity is not acquired in a week, or a month. This is a big city, it must be remembered.

Summer Schools Take With the "Kids."

Vacation schools, with their mechanical departments, their cooking classes and their athletic instructors in the playgrounds, are in full swing. The idea has taken immensely with the children. They do not mind going to school when their studies run along such pleasant lines. They are tired of lesson books, and do not care to laboriously write compositions in hot rooms. But it is a different thing to be in a gymnasium, swinging and practicing on a trapeze or whirling around a Maypole. Even a cooking lesson or instruction in sewing is not to be despised. Thousands of children, who otherwise would be playing in gutters or gasping in close tenements are having real holidays in the vacation schools, and this experiment is declared by the board of education to be a complete success.

Resort Owners Not Kicking Yet.

The seashore season is at its height, and one cannot help wondering at the number of holiday makers who crowd aboard the Coney Island and Rockaway boats every morning, or are packed aboard the trains and trolley cars bound for the suburban resorts of Greater New York. The weather has been delightful of late, and the brisk breeze which has favored New York for a week makes a day off something to be remembered with pleasure until the next one comes. There has been plenty of rain this summer, but the boat owners and others who depend on a bright summer for paying business say they will have no reason to complain if present conditions prevail until the end of August.

Burlesque on the Yacht Race.

The only new amusements advertised for tonight are "A Chinese Honeymoon" at Manhattan Beach, displacing Dockstader's minstrels, and a new sketch at the Crystal gardens, "Lifting the Cup." The "cup" is the piece of bating tweeter that Sir Thomas Lipton wants so badly, of course.

Russia and Japan.

The irritation of the Japanese over the dilly-dallying of Russia with the Manchurian question is quite natural. That international act of grand larceny, whereby Russia, in temporary alliance with Germany and France, tore away from victorious Japan the prize of war and Port Arthur, became a Russian fortress, has neither been forgotten nor forgiven by the Japanese. Having been ousted from the Liao Tung peninsula the Japanese resolved to use Korea as a coign of vantage in their great struggle to preserve for the yellow race its heritage in eastern Asia. The design of Russia to make another Egypt of Manchuria and hold that region in vassalage by methods similar to those adopted by the British in the Nile valley has become too evident to permit anybody to be deceived by Russian promises, but more exasperating still to the Japanese is the occupation by Russian troops of the banks of the Yalu river, which forms the boundary between Korea and Manchuria, under pretext of guarding Russian timber cutters in the exercise of their concessions.

The Russian encroachments in the direction of what Japan regards as an irreducible minimum of her sphere of influence on the continent of Asia would, perhaps, have provoked an outbreak of hostilities ere now but for the make-weight of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Great Britain is not prepared for another war so soon after the exhausting struggle in South Africa, and, in any event, a conflict with Russia is not likely to be invited by the British government on a provocation of such comparatively slight consequence to it as the indefinite Russian occupation of Manchuria. Moreover, Great Britain would be stopped from expending equity from Russia by a reminder of her broken promises to evacuate the Egyptian Khedivate. It is fortunate that the case stands thus and that Japan is restrained from a hasty appeal to arms by the foreknowledge that in a war with Russia she would have no supporter.—Philadelphia Record.

Nowhere is it better understood than in Washington that whoso does business with Russia "needs a long spoon." All the more creditable is it to the state department that it has exerted itself to procure some kind of understanding between Russia and Japan which should secure the rights of either party. War between them, on any issue which has thus far appeared, would be disgraceful and abominable. Moreover, it would be all but impossible, being a conflict, according to Bismarck's famous figure, between "an elephant and a whale." Japan could not invade Manchuria with any hope of success. On the other hand, Russia could not venture out upon the Pacific against the Japanese navy with the smallest hope of success, even without the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which is belated by some seven years.—New York Times.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Perhaps the Japanese would never go to war to expel the Russians from Manchuria. They are undoubtedly ready and willing and even determined to go to war to keep them out of Korea, and it is because the Russians have lately been applying their well-known tactics to the erection of a predominant influence in Korea that the prospect has become so grave. Great Britain as Japan's ally is exerting a restraining influence. It has had enough of war for the present. But Great Britain is only bound to co-operate with Japan in case Russia is assisted by another power, and were Great Britain assured that France would remain neutral in the event of a Russo-Japanese conflict, the conditions would be radically changed. Then England would not have the same motive for keeping Japan in check.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

\+ \+ \+ \+

No better means of disposing of the alarmist rumors created by Lord Cranborne's implied censure of a dupleix Russian foreign policy could have been adopted than that taken by the unnamed Japanese diplomatist who simply calls attention to the fact that the United States and Japan are still "acting on the same lines, and it would be difficult for any other power to withstand the pressure they and Great Britain could apply." This tells the whole story as well as it can be explained to people who are inquiring about the possibility of a general European clash at arms. Japan has no idea of going to war alone with Russia. She is far more likely to come to an agreement with Russia covering mutual advantages both in China and Korea than she is to bind her forces against Russia's for the sake of hastening the inevitable evacuation of Manchuria.—New York Press.

\+ \+ \+ \+

Rumors about the situation in the east are always interesting and always conflicting. The latest are these: Japan is spoiling for a fight; Japan has no thought of going to war. Russia expects war and is ready for Japan; Russia will keep her engagements with everybody and desires peace. Great Britain is secretly egging on Japan and will back her to the hilt. If Japan is waiting for the assistance of Great Britain she will not attack Russia soon. France will back Russia at all stages of the game. France doesn't care a rap about the eastern question, and Russia knows it. China is helpless in the grasp of Russia. China, as usual, is chaffering and trying to be all things to all men. You pays your money and you takes your choice. But of one thing we may be certain. The United States has Russia's promise not to interfere with the policy of the open door in Manchuria and expects her to keep it.—Washington Star.

The Doctor and His Hire.

If a surgeon performs an operation and the patient dies, is the surgeon entitled to a larger fee than if the patient had recovered? The average citizen will perhaps be inclined to reply in the negative. But a New York physician argues differently. He figures that just as much of the doctor's time, skill and attention is devoted to a case whether the patient dies or recovers, and in case he dies there is wear and tear on the doctor's reputation and earning power. It is easy to see, says the Sioux City Journal, that there is something in the argument. When an accommodating doctor goes

HIGH TEMPERATURE CLAIMS MORE VICTIMS

One Death and Two Prostrations Caused by Local Weather Conditions Yesterday.

Deaths and prostrations resulting from high temperature continue in and about Pittsburgh. One death and two prostrations from heat were reported yesterday. The victims were:

The dead:

WONEMA JOCOMA, 5-year-old daughter of Dominic Jocoma, an Italian miner, living at Willock, died during the afternoon of heat exhaustion.

The prostrated:

B. F. STACKLAND, 74 years old, of Philadelphia; overcome by heat at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Reader, No. 443 John street, Braddock, where he is visiting.

MICHAEL STROVER, aged 30, a Slav; was overcome while working on top of a pile of steel beams, at Braddock, and in falling was seriously injured. Taken to Mercy hospital.

While the maximum temperature yesterday was only 80 degrees, 10 lower than on the preceding day, the afternoon was very hot and many suffered more from humidity than the sun's rays. Fair and warmer weather is predicted by the weather man for today, and it is expected that the temperature will go up several degrees higher than the maximum registered for yesterday in this vicinity. Huron, S. D., had a maximum of 98 degrees yesterday, and it was the hottest place in the United States. In the western cities the temperature is still higher than in the east.

For nearly two months past Pittsburgh has suffered from peculiar weather conditions and the records compiled at the local weather office during this period show that on every Saturday and Sunday since May 3, this section has been visited by rain. The rainfall was of various measurements and often it was accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning. During the past two months the rainfall on Saturdays and Sundays measured a total of 6.46 inches.

TWO MILLMEN AND A STRIKER WERE FINED

McKeesport Mayor Held Hearing in Connection With Port Vue Tin Plate Bill Trouble.

Mayor Falkenstein of McKeesport yesterday heard the cases of Jared Crawford, a brother of President Crawford of the Port Vue tin plate works; J. E. Brown, a mill man, and William Fletcher, who is allied with the strikers. All were charged with disorderly conduct and all were fined.

The men were arrested last Friday night for fighting in Locust street, McKeesport. It was alleged that Crawford fired several shots at Fletcher. Attorney William J. Brennen of Pittsburgh and Vice President William Gibson of the Amalgamated association appeared for the strikers, and E. F. Douglass of McKeesport, attorney for the Tin Plate company, acted for the mill men.

Mayor Falkenstein read several sections of common council bill No. 19, relating to disorder on the streets, and fined Crawford $25 and costs and Brown and Fletcher $10 and costs, each.

TO RESUME BUILDING.

Employers of New York Will Hire Any Men Signing Arbitration Plan.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The board of governers of the Building Trades Employers' association today ordered all members of the association to start work on buildings at once, using any house smiths, hoisting engineers and shorers who would individually sign their plan of arbitration. This means that work will be started on the greater part of the building operations throughout the city and that men will be employed on them irrespective of whether they are union or not.

The members of the association are confident that with this step taken the end of the building tie-up is well in sight and that no difficulty will be experienced in obtaining men. After the meeting of the United Board of Building trades in Beckwoort hall today Sam Parks said:

"The house smiths are all together and will stay together without any plan of arbitration."

However, there is a large conservative element in the union led by President Robert Neidig which is strongly in favor of accepting the plan.

GUILTY OF PEONAGE.

Two White Alabama Citizens Plead to Indictments Against Them.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 27.—(Special.)—Two more white citizens of Tallapoosa county, A. A. Hardy and James Todd, this afternoon pleaded guilty to five indictments against them in the United States court for peonage. Judge Jones only accepted the plea of guilty in one case and postponed action on the others.

They were fined $1.00 each and are allowed 30 days in which to pay the fines. During this time, if their fines are not paid, they must go to prison at hard labor. If at the end of this time they cannot raise the money they can plead the "pauper act" and be released. It is said that during the next few days many more will come before the court and plead guilty.

FOUR MORE FEET TO GO.

Opera House Being Moved Slowly, but Surely—Suits Are Dropped.

But four more feet are required before the moving of the Grand opera house will be completed. When work was suspended at 8 o'clock last night the big structure had been moved 18½ feet. Progress on the work has been much slower than anticipated, but the contractors, Rector & Co., of Chicago, are more than satisfied with the results. It is expected the work will be completed this morning.

The suit of Harvey Sheeler of Cleveland against Langenheim, Cochran & Co., and Rector & Co., in the United States court, was discontinued yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff withdrew the suit. The defendants are the contractors for the moving of the opera house, and it was claimed that their use of a certain device in moving the building was an infringement upon the patent rights of the plaintiff.

NAME MAY HAVE BEEN THIS BROKER'S HOODOO

GREENWICH, CONN., July 27.—(Special.)—Joseph Busted, formerly a Wall street broker, went to the poor house today, refusing the offers of his two sisters, who live near the poorhouse on large farms. The sisters feared to give him money, knowing that he would go to Wall street at once and lose it, as he has done a number of times. Busted is about 50 years old.

Fight May Cause Two Deaths.

MONONGAHELA, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—In a fight last night two unknown men received wounds that will probably cause their death. Peter Mora, Zerbino Rizzi and Raimondo Rizzi are being held to await the outcome of the injuries inflicted. According to the story told by the prisoners, they were attacked by four unknown men on a road in the outskirts of the city. Zerbino Rizzi says he used a knife and Mora shot one of the assailants.

Iceberg Struck a Steamer.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 27.—The British tank steamer Baku, from Tyne, arrived here today with a hole in her bow as a result of a collision with an iceberg. The tanker was steaming slowly over the grand banks of Newfoundland during a dense fog last Monday morning, when an iceberg about 200 feet high loomed up ahead. The engines were reversed, but the bow struck the submerged portion of the iceberg.

LAST DAYS POMPEII A BRILLIANT SPECTACLE

Auspicious Opening of the Elks' Benefit Attraction at Exposition Park.

Pain's historical spectacle entitled the "Last Days of Pompeii" last night made a prosperous and successful start of the fortnight's engagement at Exposition park. It is given under the auspices and for the benefit of Pittsburgh lodge, No. 11, B. P. O. Elks. Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., manager of the Alvin theater, is managing the huge and brilliant attraction. There was an audience of over 4,000 in the enclosure last night, and fully twice that number witnessed the show from free vantage points on Monument Hill. All, both those who paid and those who did not, expressed the opinion that the show was a great success.

The setting of the piece stretches across the entire midfield, and produces a fine effect of mass and perspective. Hundreds of performers take part in the processions and pageants incidental to the action. Some novel ballet effects were introduced, including a pyrotechnic dance. Fine acrobatic performances and athletic exhibitions were given in the course of the games. Pompeii was entirely destroyed with tremendous effects of noise and flame, walls and temples falling under the rain of fire from Vesuvius.

The performance concluded with a splendid exhibition of fireworks, including a number of elaborate set pieces, a portrait of Mayor Hays among them. The fireworks were on a most liberal scale of magnificence, showing some striking novelties. One piece showed a Niagara falls of fire, stretching across the grounds, and making a thrilling spectacle.

AT THE TRACTION PARKS.

This Week's Vaudeville Bills Contain Much That Is Pleasing.

Clear skies and the promise of good attractions at the traction parks resulted in the cars running to those popular resorts being well filled last night. Those who patronized the parks were well repaid for the bills presented this week contain several clever features. The largest crowd was at Calhoun park where the Knights of Pythias encampment is being held. Beside the knights there was a host of regular park patrons, many of them people who have been in the habit of going to Oakwood park, which, for the next two weeks at least, will not have any vaudeville bill. Harry Burgoyne, the London coster singer, was a pleasing feature of the Calhoun park program. The dancing Howards had a comedy sketch in which they introduced a lot of dancing that was well executed. St. Claire & Carlisle, clever comedy wire acrobats, pleased the audience by their work. Cooke & Oakes, a team of eccentric comedians, kept the people in a good humor all the time they were on the stage. Consor's dog circus made a decided hit, especially with the younger element. These dogs dance, do stunts that many human beings could not do and are, on the whole, a first-class entertainment in themselves.

There was a good bill at Southern park, too. Mardo, the comedy juggler, did some interesting work and Cook & Hayes, comedians, had a funny sketch entitled "The Captain and the Kidder," which caused lots of merriment. Alice Philbrooks, a pleasing singer, had the satisfaction of knowing that her efforts were appreciated, while Axtell & Sylvia, comedy acrobats, did not exert themselves in vain, and Nichols & Croix's comedy travesty sketch, "The Antamologist," was a laughable affair from start to finish.

Kennywood had the Rocereto concert band both afternoon and evening and the concerts were of a highly pleasing nature. W. H. Maddock, the aerial acrobat, well known in the traction parks, is still the aerial acrobat he always was and furnished a pleasing divertissement, while a series of funny pictures projected by the cinematograph caused rounds of laughter.

"IL TROVATORE" WELL SUNG

A Old Favorite Put on at Duquesne Garden Is Well Received.

"Il Trovatore," Verdi's tragic opera, is on the boards at the Duquesne garden this week. A delightful musical treat it is, too, for the wild, passionate tale of jealous love has been rehearsed for weeks, and in the hands of the present company, aided by some new voices, well repays the lover of good music. In the role of Leonora, the much-loved countess, Mary Carlisle can record a great success. That she is a welcome singer in this garden stage was shown by the repeated encores she received in the first act. Her voice and manner are winning her hosts of new friends among the patrons of the summer opera, and last night she held their attention to perfection. The most difficult role is that of Azucena, the gypsy. Josephine Bartlett in this role is particularly strong, and her efforts were well repaid by the cordial reception she received in the later scenes. Another favorite in the performance was Harry Davies, who as Manico, the trobadour, played a conspicuous part.

Not the least part of the enjoyment to be found in the program, by any means, was the last feature in the Palm garden, where Maljoris Barrett made her appearance, to the delight of those of the audience who remained. The little maiden is a perfect at home that she might well be mistaken for an old performer. Her childish simplicity and graceful ways won favor at once, and when she started "The Belle of Avenue" she had the rapt attention of everyone present. If anything were wanted to complete the unusually good impression she created it was found in her fascinating mimicry in the "coon" songs and her easy dancing. Marjorie will be a favorite at the Garden whenever she appears, for her talent and training will assure her a warm welcome.

READY FOR THE FRAY.

Mrs. Kelley in Jefferson With Letter Accusing the Lee Bribery Trial.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Blanche Kelley, wife of D. J. Kelley, legislative agent of the baking powder association, went to Jefferson City today, where she will present the letters written to her husband by former Lieut. Gov. Lee at the trial of Senator Frank H. Farris, who is charged with bribery in connection with the alum baking powder scandal.

Soon after Lee told his story and warned Kelley to leave the United States, Mrs. Kelley received in New York a communication signed John Sargent, stating that Lee would not be a witness if he were paid a sufficient sum. On the outside of this letter, which was typewritten, the word "personal" was scrawled in pencil. The envelope was postmarked St. Louis. Mrs. Kelley will identify this letter, which it will be charged Lee wrote.

IT WAS HIS WIFE.

Morton House Murder Mystery Cleared Up by Hugo Quittner of Schenetady.

NEW YORK, July 27.—(Special.)—Identifying his wife as the woman who was killed in the Morton house by her male companion, who then killed himself, Hugo Quittner of Schenectady fell in a swoon in a Fourth avenue undertaking establishment today. When he was restored he also positively identified the dead man as Christopher Weiss, also of Schenectady.

Quittner said that there had been some unpleasantness on account of Weiss for about a year. Weiss, he said, had been his best friend; but the husband grew annoyed by Weiss' constant attentions to his wife and there was a quarrel, although Quittner said he did not suspect their relations.

LONG STORY OF LOVE ENDED BY DEATH OF ONE

A. B. Todd, Formerly of Monongahela City, Saw Wife Die in Home for Aged.

The last day of a long love story was closed yesterday afternoon when death came to claim Adaline Todd at the United Presbyterian Home for Aged, Wilkinsburg. At her bedside knelt her husband, who, like herself, too old to work or care for himself, has lived at the home for a year. The end had been expected for days, and the old man, childish and feeble, was permitted to spend his whole time in the sick room. For hours yesterday afternoon the couple seemed content to remain perfectly silent. No one came or went.

As the shades of night stole into the room a bright smile covered the pallid face of the woman, and she turned once, longingly, toward her companion. Silently a darker shadow had entered the room, and, as in obedience to an unknown will, the aged man bowed his head in resignation. The cold grip of death seemed to draw him nearer to the lifeless body, and he sobbed, but in vain.

They came to light the room and so fell upon the prostrate body of the old man. He was aroused and led from the room like a child from his playground as night drew on.

Tomorrow the slim, slight body will be carried to Homewood cemetery, with a solitary mourner, for these two old childish lovers have outlived their time, their friends and almost their fondest memories, and all that remains is enduring hope through eternity.

The case of A. B. Todd and his wife has caused much pity in the home since the couple entered that institution last August. The woman gave the age of 82 and the man 87, both of them coming from West Newton. Years ago they were married, but lived childless. Mr. Todd at the time of the marriage was a well-to-do business man of Monongahela City, but time told heavily on him until finally, lost to his friends and without fortune, he, with his wife, came to the Presbyterian home.

RIVERVIEW PARK WILL HAVE FINE BANDSTAND

H. J. Heinz Will Present a Large Up-to-Date Structure to Allegheny.

Director E. J. McIlvain of the department of public works of Allegheny announced last night that H. J. Heinz had offered to build a bandstand in Riverview park and had declared that the stand would be equal to the finest in the United States. Mr. Heinz left for the east last night and will make an inspection of the bandstands in the parks in a number of the largest cities in an effort to choose one after which to pattern the proposed stand in Riverview.

In proffering the money to Director McIlvain for the construction of the bandstand, Mr. Heinz assured him that the expense of the thing would not be considered.

It is Director McIlvain's plan to have the stand constructed on a turntable so that the sounding board can be faced in any direction. "This will make it possible," said the director last night, "to shift the position of the band as the winds shifts. Often when a large crowd assembles about a bandstand those compelled to remain in the lee of the wind cannot hear the music.

The Wholesale Liquor Dealers association and the Wholesale Grocers association have each offered money to construct shelter houses in the park, and both offers have been accepted by Director McIlvain. Work on the bandstand and the shelter houses will commence within a few weeks.

PRESS AGENT COULDN'T SEE THE PRESIDENT

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 27.—(Special.)—Cecelia A. Greil, a press agent for the Bostock wild animal show at Coney Island, stormed Sagamore Hill tonight, but returned, defeated, without "interesting" the president in "Consul," a chimpanzee, represented as having better table manners than Mr. Bostock's own children. The effort to enlist the president on the advertising staff of the show was highly spectacular.

A PICTURE

Of health, we say of a perfectly healthful woman, and it is a picture everyone loves to look upon. All the pictures of all the artists who have ever painted the glory and beauty of womanhood, are only copies and imitations of this picture.

Never artist mixed a color on his palette that can vie with the hues which tint a healthful woman's cheek. Why should this charm be sacrificed to sickness? It need not be save in rare cases. The general health of woman is so linked with the local womanly health that wasted cheek and sunken eye are in general but evidences of womanly diseases. Cure the diseases and the physical health is restored.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the ills of women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "I shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' for they cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines, I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; now I weigh one hundred and forty pounds and am having better health than ever before. My friends all say they can hardly believe that I am the same person; after being sick so long I have changed to be strong and rosy cheeked."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

ALL WAS QUIET IN SUBURBS.

County Detectives' Fruitless Chase of a Negro Crap Shooter.

The county detectives who patroled those portions of the county where crowds congregate on Sunday reported yesterday to District Attorney John C. Haymaker that things were quiet.

Detectives Robert G. Robinson, George H. Waggoner and John J. Roach went to the Catholic church corner stone laying in Crafton and jumped off the car in the West End to join in the chase after a negro whom 100 persons were pursuing. The detectives thought a murder had been committed but dropped the chase when they learned that the negro had stolen the stakes in a crap game which had stopped.

A CHICAGO BUSINESS MAN

Cured by Pe-ru-na of Catarrh of the Stomach After Doctors Failed.

Wm. N. Selig, a well-known business man of Chicago, Ill., in a recent letter from 43 Peck Court, Chicago, Ill., says:

"After having used several remedies for indigestion without beneficial results, I was induced by a friend of mine to try Peruna, and I gladly say that it effected a positive cure.

"I have lately recommended it to several of my acquaintances as I firmly believe it is all that is claimed for it."

In catarrh of the stomach, as well as catarrh of any part of the body, Peruna is the remedy. As has been often said if Peruna will cure catarrh of one part, it will cure catarrh of any other part of the body.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located, and the remedy that will cure it anywhere will cure it everywhere.

The following letter from Congressman Botkin speaks for itself:

House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, O.:

My Dear Doctor—It gives me pleasure to certify to the excellent curative qualities of your medicines—Peruna and Manalin. I have been afflicted more or less for a quarter of a century with catarrh of the stomach and constipation. A residence in Washington has increased these troubles. A few bottles of your medicine have given me almost complete relief, and I am sure that a continuation of them will effect a permanent cure. Peruna is surely a wonderful remedy for catarrhal affections.—J. D. Botkin.

J. D. Botkin.

This is a case of catarrh of the stomach which had run for twenty-five years, according to his statement, and Peruna has at once come to his relief, promptly accomplishing for him more benefit than he had been able to find in all other remedies during a quarter of a century.

WM. N. SELIG.

It stands to reason that a man of wealth and influence, like a Congressman of the great United States, has left no ordinary means untried and no stone unturned to find a cure.

If such cures as these do not verify the claim not only that dyspepsia is due to catarrh of the stomach, but also that Peruna will cure catarrh of the stomach, it is impossible to imagine how any evidence could do so.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

MILLER AGAIN AT THE BIND

Men at the Government P... Office Are Working U... Protest, Howeve...

FEAR OF STRIKE ... PAST

Manner of Fre... Against the Foreman ... ecided Upon. National ... dent Will Reach Washing...

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 27.—W. A. Miller, the assistant foreman of the bookbinding department of the government printing office, resumed his duties today. Miller was assigned to work in charge of men who have been waging a vigorous campaign against him, but these men, acting under the decision of the union, continued at work technically, "under protest."

Greater anxiety exists tonight among the employes of the government printing office than at any time since the reinstatement of Miller. Members of the local union, which preferred charges against Miller, have determined to place their case unreservedly in the hands of the International Union of Bookbinders, representatives of which have arrived in the city.

James W. Dougherty, general secretary of the International union, is in charge, but it is expected that tomorrow Robert T. Glocking of Toronto, the vice president, will arrive and take control of the situation.

W. A. Miller.

The situation will remain unchanged, in all probability, until further action on the part of Public Printer Palmer and Secretary Cortelyou.

The charges which were filed subsequent to the ruling of President Roosevelt and the reinstatement of Miller are pending before the public printer. The time has not been set for the hearing.

A conference was held this evening between the officers of the local union and the general secretary for the purpose of determining the manner of presenting the case against Miller. The feeling that the controversy will not result in a strike is not shared by the majority of the employes. Where a strike was freely predicted and even encouraged three days ago it is now feared. The employes say that they do not care to encounter a possible lockout when the United States is holding the key.

A general committee of three, representing the labor unions of the city, today called upon the civil service commission to make inquiry as to whether a certificate of reinstatement would be issued to members of the unions employed by the government in case they should go on strike. The commissioner replied that the inquiry was largely hypothetical and that "the bridges were crossed when reached."

LOST HER GOLDEN CURLS, HER LOVER AND HER JOB

Suit Follows an Actress Changing Her Hair to Get a Position.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 27.—Six weeks ago Josephine Victor was a spirituelle blonde with regular Mary J. Holmes curls. She is today a piquan, black-haired brunette. A $5,000 damage suit is the result of the change of hair, and J. J. Rosenthal and his wife, Kathryn Osterman, are the parties who have rouse Miss Victor to take recourse in the courts.

"I went to Mr. Rosenthal's office on May 15," said Miss Victor, "to see about being placed as Lucy in the Kathryn Osterman production of 'Miss Petticoats.' Mr. Rosenthal looked me over and said he thought I would fill the bill, but he couldn't engage a blond in his company, as Kathryn Osterman, the star, is a blond. I wanted the engagement, so I told Mr. Rosenthal I would change the color of my hair. We made a verbal contract, and Kathryn Osterman, who was in the office, seemed pleased.

"Well, after I had my hair turned black I went back to Mr. Rosenthal's office on July 8 and he informed me that the place had been filled."

Miss Victor, who appeared in the role of Angelica with Howard Kyle in "Nathan Hale" last season, is a Columbus, O., girl, and up to two weeks ago was engaged to George Matthews, a young business man of that place. When Mr. Matthews came to New York to visit his golden-haired sweetheart he found her converted into a raven-haired incarnation of injured indignation, and he waxed wroth and proceeded to censure instead of condoning.

"He would not stand for my artificially changed hair," said Miss Victor, "and I feel that Kathryn Osterman and her manager, Mr. Rosenthal, are responsible for marring my theatrical career, my personal appearance and my love affair."

She has retained Attorney Joel Krone in her damage suit, while Miss Osterman and J. J. Rosenthal are represented by House, Grossman & Voorhaus.

There were 1,650 collisions and 1,181 derailments, causing $2,491,046 damage to cars, engines and roadways.

PITTSBURGH & LAKE ERIE REDUCES THE NIAGARA FALLS EXCURSION RATE FROM $7.45 TO $5.00 THE ROUND TRIP FOR ONE EXCURSION, SATURDAY, AUGUST 1.

What promises to be the largest excursion from this city this season will be the one to Niagara Falls via the Lake Erie railroad on Saturday, August 1, a result of the low rate introduced as an offset to the seashore excursions. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie people are arranging for a special train in the morning at 9:25 (city time), and also a night special leaving at 10 p. m. MOUNT VERNON MURDER MYSTERY SOLVED AT LAST

NEW YORK, July 27.—(Special.)—Gottfried Eichel this afternoon identified the body of the woman found in a sewer in Mount Vernon as that of Mrs. Ebelt, his stepdaughter. Late this afternoon the police of White Plains arrested Martin Ebelt, her husband, on a charge of murder. Nine months ago the woman had her husband locked up for non-support, and she went to live with her mother-in-law. Last Friday Ebelt called and told his mother he had a place for Gussie to work. They left the house together and that was the last time the young woman was seen alive.

Half price sale handkerchief "seconds"

IF one knows nothing of manufacturing, one can scarcely comprehend the thousands and thousands of an article produced in a year—nor guess how it could possibly happen that a handkerchief maker could have 12,000 "seconds."

But that's just it—12,000 handkerchiefs are the season's accumulation of "seconds" of a prominent handkerchief maker—and we bought the entire lot at half price. Of course, you may expect to find slight imperfections—a tiny hole where a thread has failed to catch, a mis-stitch in the embroidery edge, or the hem may slightly vary in width—that's the reason they are half price.

All kinds of handkerchiefs are included—embroidery edge, lace edge, drawn corner, embroidered corner, initial, plain hemstitched, etc.

All the lace or embroidery edge and initial handkerchiefs worth 25c, have been assorted in one lot—take your choice at 15c

All the plain hemstitched handkerchiefs, every one guaranteed all pure linen, worth 10c and 15c, in another lot—take your choice for 5c

GAMES TODAY.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 27.—It seems absolutely impossible for the Reds to win a game from the Pirates on their home grounds. They seemed to get stage fright as soon as the champions enter the gates and they don't recover until the game is over only to have a more severe case the following day. Today was no exception and as heretofore the visitors easily won the game.

The game was void of sensational features, except the catch of a line drive by Dolan in right, and the result was never in doubt, for in the second inning the philanthropic red-legs presented their brethren from up the river with six large, juicy runs. Not a run should have been scored in this inning, but a series of errors to which Jack Suthoff contributed the most freely, let the visitors get to bats and timely long flies, put the locals out of the running. There was little interest in the game after that. The Reds seemed to have accepted their defeat while the visitors did not seem to think it necessary to put forth any more strenuous efforts.

Schoolmaster Leever had an easy game of ball to pitch from that out. There was no exertion necessary, and he took advantage of the situation and just relied upon about one-half of the speed he can command to deceive the opposing batsmen and that was quite sufficient.

In an effort to change their luck the Reds went to bat first and though Donlin was given a lift by Wagner's error, Leever took care that he did not score.

In the second things broke better, the Reds tallying one. Steinfeldt drew a pass and Corcoran singled to right, sending Steinfeldt to third. Corcoran stole second and when Kelley forced Steinfeldt at the plate by grounding to Ritchey, Kelley stole second, however, and came home when Peitz singled.

The last half of the inning was a nightmare. Leach walked and Kelley made a mess of Ritchey's grounder. Suthoff's wild throw to third of Kruger's grounder filled the bags. Smith's out scored Leach. Leever then fanned Hitchcock, scoring Beaumont. Beaumont walked and promptly stole second. Sebring got a scratch single and Kruger and Beaumont scampered home. Wagner then tore off a slashing single to center, scoring Sebring. Wagner reached second on the throw to the plate, and a moment later stole third. Steinfeldt made a wild throw of Bransfield's grounder and Wagner romped home with the fifth run of the inning.

Errors by Leach and Wagner and a single by Donlin gave the Reds one in the third and Seymour's single and Beckley's hit which got away from Sebring netted another in the fifth.

Beaumont's fine catch of Peitz's long fly in left field's bit gave the visitors one in the sixth and they added three to this in the ninth when Dolan, Donlin and Corcoran made errors. The score:

MEET IN FINALS TODAY.

Ward and Larned Come Together at Longwood, Will to Play Clothier Tuesday.

BOSTON, MASS., July 27.—A big crowd gathered at the tennis courts of the Longwood Cricket club to witness the concluding contests in the tournamen twhich started on the second week today. Champion Larned was pitted against George Wrenn, and, although the latter took the third set, he finally proved to be no match for the national champion. After the intermission Wrenn scored in the fourth and concluding, 6—2. Larned in the early part of the play was away off his form. The result: Larned beat Wrenn, 6—4, 6—0, 6—2. Holcombe Ward found an easy victim in Beals C. Wright, who was tired out from his hard work of last week, and won 6—4, 6—1, 6—2. These two wins in the semi-finals bring Ward and Larned together tomorrow in the finals. The challenge match with Clothier will be played on Wednesday.

In the morning Ward and Ware won the eastern doubles championship, a feat which they had practically accomplished by winning from Larned and Wright in the second round. Holcombe Ward and Ware, the eastern champions, an dithey will meet Collins and Waidner, the western champions, at Newport, August 18. The winner of this contest will be called upon to meet the Doherty brothers at Newport for the national championship. In the finals this morning, Ward and Ware had an easy time with Holt and Merrill, who had won their way into the finals through an easy field, and went down before the eastern champions, 7—5, 6—4, 6—1. H. L. Doherty and Mahoney of the English team won in the courts today and put in a lot of hard work.

CALHOUN FOR HAVERHILL.

Popular Allegheny Boy to Manage Team in New England League.

John "Red" Calhoun, third baseman on the Wilmerding team, last night signed a contract to manage and play first base on the Haverhill club in the New England league. He will leave for that city tonight. Calhoun will also captain the team and it is very likely that he will have more local talent with him ere the season closes.

Haverhill is last in the race for the championship and the club owners were very anxious to sign Calhoun, they recognizing his ability as a player and a field captain. Calhoun was with the St. Louis National league last summer. Tris season he had offers from nearly every minor league in the country, but declined them all until the Haverhill offer was made to him.

LIKELY TO DIE OUT.

Players' Association Seems on Its Last Leg.

CINCINNATI, O., July 27.—(Special.)—The Baseball Players' Protective association may be dead now officially for all President Tom Daly knows. He was perhaps more surprised than anybody else over the fizzle in New York Sunday, when a meeting of delegates was expected.

"I would not be surprised to see the organization fall through," said Daly today. "A great many of the players seem to care naught for the organization. American league players displayed the greatest concern. I had heard them talk and knew how many of them felt about keeping the organization going, but suppose Secretary Harry Davis of the Atlantics will inform me of the exact situation by letter. Some of the players may feel as if there is no occasion for organization now, but may be later."

LOFTUS MAY BUY THE WASHINGTON CLUB

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.—(Special.)—President Postal of the Washington baseball club is said to be negotiating the sale of his stock to Manager Tom Loftus and a majority stockholders. The personal representative of President Postal, Mr. Aleer of Detroit, was in Washington several days ago and submitted a proposition to Manager Loftus, which will probably result in change in the ownership of the Washington club. Postal says he wishes to identify himself with the Detroit club and does not care to continue his Washington holdings because of the distance in which he is held by other persons interested in the club.

Kane Beat Sharon.

KANE, PA., July 27.—(Special.)—The home team defeated Sharon again today by better ball. The visitors were unable to secure but four scattered hits off Nolan, who had perfect control, while Kane batted Hall even harder than in the second game, securing nine of the nine hits being for three bases, Sasse, Smith and Piper each having one. Score:

TOM DELANEY CAUGHT BY THE TOLEDO POLICE

Man Mixed Up in the Irwin Bank Robbery Is Thought to Be in Jail.

Tom Delaney, a well-known Pittsburgh crook, who was implicated in the bank robbery at Irwin, last December, is thought to have been captured in Toledo, O., yesterday, on a tip from Post-office Inspector Owens of Cleveland. The man gave the name of H. H. Smith and declares he is a railroader and lives at Toledo. The police, however, feel sure he is Tom Delaney, the bank robber.

Delaney was released from the Columbus penitentiary July 1, 1902. On December 13 10 men, of whom he was one, did the famous Irwin bank job. They tied a telephone girl, sandbagged a night watchman, dynamited the safe and secured among other valuables, $1,300 belonging to the United States government. John Conlin ("Farmer John"), and Robert Simpson, members of the gang, are now in the penitentiary as a result of the job. Peter Boss was released on a technicality. Joe Proctor, an old man; Delaney and others escaped.

Since the Irwin robbery Delaney, Proctor and others of the crowd have been operating in Ohio. Delaney is wanted in Monroe, Mich., for alleged complicity in a burglary. He was arrested at Toledo as a suspect, the postoffice authorities thinking he was one of the men who robbed the Tontogany (O.) postoffice a few nights ago. When searched he had a big revolver and $175. He is held to answer to the federal grand jury.

FAILURE TO SELL POOLS SPOILS THE MEETING

Small Crowds Saw Grand Circuit Opening at Cleveland—Many Horses Scratched.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, July 27.—Clevelanders were treated today to the novel sight of a grand circuit trotting meeting without pool selling, the courts having declared that it would not be allowed. This was the result of the crusade started by Mayor Goff of Glenville, in whose limits the Cleveland track is located. In consequence of the absence of betting, the crowd was one of the smallest that has attended the local meetings in years, while the fields in the several events were also smaller, in spite of the fact that the entry list had been unusually large. Numerous scratches are also announced in the races for Tuesday and in one race, it is doubtful, if more than three or four horses will start, a race in which there had been 20 entries.

The meeting was the first trial of an entire card of two-in-three heat races. It cannot be said that the test was a success aside from a speed standpoint, there being no doubt that the time attained was better than under the old three-in-five heat system. The Monk and Louise Jefferson, owned by C. W. Billings of Chicago, were driven a mile to pole in 2:14½. Summaries.

ALMSHOUSE MANAGERS LIABLE TO PROSECUTION

Law Prohibits Supplying Oleomargarine as Food to Inmates.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, July 27.—Managers of state institutions in Pennsylvania who supply their inmates oleomargarine are liable to prosecution by the state dairy and food bureau. Attorney General Carson has given Commissioner Warren an opinion to this effect and as a result suit will hereafter be brought against all such offenders of the oleomargarine laws.

Warren recently brought suit against the managers of the almshouses at Williamsport and Punxsutawney for feeding the inmates oleomargarine, after which the question was raised that the commissioner had exceeded his authority.

Dr. Warren submitted the question to Attorney General Carson, who today, furnished a written opinion that the commissioner has ample grounds for prosecuting managers of almshouses and penal and charitable institutions receiving state aid, if they furnish oleomargarine to their wards, provided the charges can be proven.

The committee itself asked for the investigation, their action in accepting the hospitality of the telephone company having been criticised by the citizens.

Action on the ordinance recently introduced, giving the Bell company a perpetual franchise to build a conduit system in the city, was postponed until the investigation is complete. Lieut. Col. SOCIETY

MOTHERS' DAY, in addition to Flower day, was celebrated on Friday at the Forbes vacation school. The principal of the school is Mr. Dodd of Chicago, who has charge of the manual training department. In this work he is assisted by A. F. Strouse. The exhibits in needlework, under Miss Curry of Allegheny and Miss Smith of Ligonier, were much admired by the mothers. The young girls in this department have shown great interest as well as aptitude in their work. The basketry class, taught by Miss Clark, had a display of pretty baskets, hats, picture frames and similar work. The work done in the art department, under the direction of Miss Sarah P. Collins and Miss Hanson, reflected much credit on both teachers and pupils. Mrs. Dallas Albert has charge of the kitchen garden department, with Mrs. W. S. Berry and Mrs. Samuel W. Harper, as assistants. Mrs. Berry had taught the children a march drill, which they went through in a very creditable manner to the music furnished by Mrs. Harper.

Mrs. Longmore made the address of welcome to the mothers, giving some good advice regarding home making. Among the Sorosis members present were Mrs. W. A. Black, Mrs. Bronson and Mrs. Johnson. The serving of refreshments completed a pleasant morning and the mothers pronounced themselves well pleased with the work of their children. The Forbes school, under Mr. Dodd and a fine corps of teachers, is doing excellent work. The Sorosis club is to be congratulated on the success of its undertaking.

Golden Wedding Celebration.

An event of more than ordinary interest and social importance last Saturday was the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Heilman of Pyrsa, Armstrong county. Reuben Heilman, a son of Frederick Heilman, was born in Kittanning township, Armstrong county, August 12, 1832, and has resided in that township all his life. Mrs. Heilman a daughter of Henry Everhart, was born near Harrison City, Westmoreland county, January 5, 1836. Fifty years ago they were united in marriage and from this union nine children grew to maturity. In behalf of Shy, Pa.; Mrs. James Moore of Kittanning; Dr. Amos E. of Rural Valley, Pa.; Dr. Elmer E. of Hillsdale, Pa.; Henry F. of Allegheny City; Sue M. of Pyrsa, Mrs. S. R. Hall of Jeannette; Cyrus M. of Kittanning, and Mrs. Frank Brown of Vandergrift.

There are also 18 grandchildren and five great grandchildren. A remarkable fact is that in this large family circle no deaths have yet occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Heilman are still hale and hearty and have prospects of adding many more years to their already long and happy wedded life.

The nine children with their husbands and wives, and other friends began to arrive early in the morning. Mr. and Mrs. Heilman were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. Dinner was served on the lawn around the house. This was the first time in 18 years that the entire family had met at home.

At the reunion on Saturday each member of the family present was given a booklet containing the names and addresses of each descendant. Guests were present from Iowa, Kansas, California, Ohio, Pittsburgh and surrounding towns. William Wood of Andover, O., is the only surviving child of Abinah Wood.

Heeren was best man, and the ushers were John Holdenbaum and Robert Holdenbaum. Miss Nellie Jones and Clyde Jones, a brother of the bride, performed the duties of flower bearers. FOR PICNIC LUNCHES.

If All the Year Were Playing Holidays, to Sport Would Be as Tedious as to Work.

Time was when it was deemed necessary to devote a whole day at least to the preparation of edibles for a day's outing for the family. Pies, baked meats, cakes, etc., must be made ready in generous quantities, as it was a day of feasting as well, for all but the tired, overworked house-mother who longed to run away for her for a few hours, from the incessant round of homely domestic duties and the many cares and responsibilities resting on her.

The housewife who looks well after the innumerable little things that hedge her about and have much to do with the making of an ideal, comfortable and well-conducted home, has far less fatigue to bear in her year.

Be she ever so strong, home-loving and capable, there comes a time when an occasional change of scene, air and interests will be beneficial, if nature has not already demanded a rest and time to recover, by comfortable repose, from the long nervous tension and strain of even the ordinary round of social and home demands.

It has been said with truth that Americans do not know how to rest, but we are learning, and instead of the tiresome and laborious preparations which preceded the holiday a few years ago the up-to-date housewife now plans that her day shall truly be one of careless freedom in the soul-refreshing, life-giving air of the "truly out-of-doors" where she can bathe in sunshine mentally and physically a tonic for tired nerves and an invigorator that will give zest to and create an appetite for plain, wholesome simple foods, easily prepared and carried.

Fried Chicken.

Use young spring chickens. Cut up as for stewed fowl, place in a steamer for 20 minutes, as this process will make it more evenly done and more juicy. Roll in egg and then in bread crumbs and fry in hot fat. Season after crumbing.

Berry Cake.

Cream half a cup of butter with one cup of granulated sugar, add the yolks of two eggs well beaten. Sift together two cups of flour with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one level teaspoonful of salt, sift in the flour alternately with one cup of milk into the first mixture, and one cup of blueberries which have been floured and last add the stiffly beaten whites of the two eggs. Bake in a dripping pan in moderate oven 45 minutes. This is much more tempting than rich cake in the picnic lunch basket.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

Mrs. V. T. S. writes—Will you please tell me how to steam soft-shell clams?

Steamed Soft Shell Clams.

Place a muffin ring or iron stand in a large, deep covered saucepan and pour in a quantity of boiling water. Place the clams on an agate dish; lay this on the rings or stand in the saucepan, cover the saucepan and let the clams cook for about eight minutes. When they are done serve on a hot dish covered with a folded napkin, removing from the shells and dipping in a sauce of two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, juice of half a lemon and salt and pepper.

Veal Indian Hash.

M. L. writes—Will you give a nice way of reheating cold mutton, making a dish suitable for luncheon?

Cut the mutton in thin slices and put these into a saucepan with some good stock. Cut a slice from a lemon, peel and remove the seeds, add to the mutton with salt and pepper and a blade of mace. Cover and simmer, taking care that it does not boil. Powder the yolks of two hard boiled eggs and rub smooth with a teaspoonful of mixed mustard and a little of the hot stock. Add to the hash; remove the lemon and piece of mace and let it simmer five minutes, then serve.

RIDE AND GROOM TAKEN FROM SURF

Pittsburgh Couple Had to Be Assisted by Atlantic City Life Guards.

ENJOYED THEIR EXPERIENCE

Hotels Becoming Crowded in Anticipation of the August Hot Spell—Boardwalk Loiterers Thought Fishing Boats Were Part of the Flying Squadron.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 27.

A newly-married Pittsburgh couple were assisted from the surf by the life guards today, and tonight both of them said they rather enjoyed the experience. They are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Miller of No. 5101 Keystone street, Eighth ward. With Miss Nellie Palmer, the couple came to Atlantic City after their wedding last Wednesday. This afternoon they went into the surf at the foot of South Carolina avenue, together with a brother-in-law of Miller.

The sea was smooth and they went far out, so far out that the guards kept their eyes on them. It was not long before Mrs. Miller chanced to look toward the shore, and realizing that they were 100 yards further out than the rest of the bathers, she became frightened. Miller began returning toward the shore with his wife and was met by the life guards, who landed them safely on the beach. While talking about it tonight Mrs. Miller said: "I wasn't scared; I knew that my husband could swim."

Hotels Becoming Crowded.

Despite the weather conditions and the losses sustained all over the country by the decline in the value of stocks, the resort is rapidly filling up. All of the big beach front hotels are booked nearly solid for the month of August and every mail brings letters from all points of the country, and particularly from Pittsburg, asking that accommodations be reserved. The outlook for the balance of the season is very bright indeed and the hotel managers, who have been losing money steadily, will have a chance to quit with a small balance to their credit. They are assured that whatever the outcome of this season may be next year will be a banner year for the resort. The money losses this year was caused by the weather in this month being unusually cool. There was no occasion for people to come to the shore to escape the heat of the cities. The national body of the Mystic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will hold its convention at Atlantic City next July. They will be here for only one week, but they will fill the hotels and one good week in July is enough to make the season here successful. The month of August always takes care of itself.

The fact that many of the people who live west of the Alleghany mountains are a good deal to blame was responsible for a joke played on hundreds of people on the board walk here today. There were half a dozen fishing steamers within a quarter of a mile of the beach for several hours. They were engaged in catching a herring-like fish that yields an oil. There happened to be a large school of them close in shore and the steamers launched innumerable small boats to surround the fish with nets.

As the boats were hauled in they went along the board walk telling groups of people that the boats were some of Uncle Sam's small gunboats and were on a cruise and that the men in the boats were bluejackets drilling. The groups told others and in a short time there were a throng gathered on the outside of the board walk viewing what they thought was a practice drill of the flying squadron. It was not until the steamers had disappeared that those who had been interested spectators learned that it was all a hoax.

Coming in Automobile.

George Titlow, a hotelkeeper of Uniontown, will arrive next week from Uniontown in an automobile. He telegraphed here today to Harry Beason of Uniontown to secure him quarters, saying that he proposed to make the trip. The quarters were secured at Young's hotel.

FORMAL OPENING OF THE HERR'S ISLAND DAM

An Interesting River Event Is to Take Place at Noon Today.

Details for the celebration of the opening of Herrs Island dam, at noon today, were completed last night. The exercises begin at the Cincinnati wharfboat promptly at noon, when the parade will start for the Allegheny side of the harbor amid a blowing of whistles such as is seldom heard.

So many have accepted invitations to be present that it has been found necessary to charter the steamer Florence Bell. She will be lashed to the flagship, James Mackey, and the two will lead the procession. Capt. John F. Klein has offered the services of his pleasure fleet to the public, and anyone wishing to see the celebration will be welcomed aboard any one of his craft. They are, the steamer John F. Klein, the excursion packet Mayflower and the excursion barges Beauty and Annie Roberts. They will follow the flagship into the Allegheny river. Bands have been also provided by Capt. Klein, Admiral Thomas M. Rees issued the following last night:

To the public: Tuesday, July 28, 1903, promises to be a day in the history of the river interests of Pittsburgh. I have been notified by Capt. John F. Klein that he will have his pleasure boats at the disposal of the public. Those who can find it convenient to take part in the celebration are invited to take advantage of his generous hospitality by taking a ride on the river on this occasion.

I would ask all the masters of boats that are to participate in the demonstration to be ready with their craft on the Monongahela river, at the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati wharfboat, to move at noon.

Last night the work of decorating the boats was started and the display promises to be on an elaborate scale. A flagpole, which has done service in steering the longest raft that ever came down the Allegheny, has been raised at the dam. James H. Cassidy, secretary of the congressional river and harbor committee, will raise the flag. Speeches will be made by Congressman John Dalzell, Col. John L. Vance and others. Not the least interesting exercise will be the presentation to Capt. John H. Drave of a gold pin and the bestowal on him of the title "Dean of the Waterways."

Harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots' association, will attend the celebration. Rivermen in general will turn out to show their appreciation of the work of the government in slackwatering the local rivers. A large attendance from Allegheny valley towns is assured.

NEW LOCAL COMPANY WILL MAKE JOURNALS

Pittsburgh Railway Supply Company Controls Patent of F. S. Ward.

To manufacture a specially designed anti-friction journal for cars and automobiles, the Pittsburgh Railway Supply Company was formed yesterday, with a capital of $1,000,000, by Pittsburgh capitalists. A plant will be built in this district to be in active operation within a year. The charter was granted in the District of Columbia. One-half of the stock will be 7 per cent preferred and the remainder common.

The company was formed primarily to make the journals after the patent of Frederick G. Ward, a mechanical engineer of the East End, although it will not confine itself to this alone. Its charter will allow it to do a general railway business. A meeting of the incorporators was held yesterday at the offices of Charles R. Buchheit, an oil and gas operator of Pittsburgh, in the Park building. The following officers were elected: Charles R. Buchheit, president; Frederick G. Ward, vice president and general manager; M. B. Kelly, secretary; the American Steel Company, treasurer, and J. G. Dunbar, a real estate agent, secretary. Financial committee, E. S. Reilly, general manager of the Ft. Pitt Malleable and Gray Iron Company; James B. Crook, a real estate agent; W. J. East, an architect and G. W. McClain, an attorney.

A car of the Pittsburgh Railways Company using the Ward journals has been in constant use for three months and is in excellent condition.

WANTS $25,000 FOR HIS GLASSHOUSE PATENT

Frederick Danner Entered Suit Against Columbia Plate Glass Company.

Frederick Danner of Tarentum yesterday entered suit in common pleas court No. 1, against the Columbia Plate Glass Company of Pittsburgh to recover $25,000, which he alleges is due him for the assignment of patent rights. Danner was the inventor of a "deck lehr" or annealing furnace on which patents had been granted. On January 11, 1902, he avers, he entered into a contract with the defendant company by which he was to assign the patent rights to the company and furnish drawings and his personal services in the construction of the device at the company's Blairsville plant.

After the validity of the patent had been passed upon by a competent patent attorney, he says, he was to be paid $25,000. He avers he has complied with the agreement but the company has refused to pay the amount or any part of it.

HE DID NOT GET THE LOT.

A Prospective Purchaser Who Camped Out All Night Sued Land Company.

The question of the "squatters'" rights has been presented in a suit filed by R. J. Conley against the Wabash Improvement Company, in which he seeks to recover $25,000 damages. He avers the company advertized a sale of lots at Gould City, near Bridgeville, on June 6 last, the advertisement stating that no reservation of any lot would be made.

Conley says on June 5 he camped on a lot he wished to buy, taking possession of the stake for the purpose of securing the lot until the next day. He remained on the lot all night, and at 5 o'clock on the morning of the sale he says he was elected by two employes wearing "Gould City" badges. Afterward he obtained possession again and held it until the hour of the sale, when he offered to buy the lot and comply with all terms. The company, he says, refused to sell him the lot, reserving it for a favored person, but sold him another lot. He says it is the rule of the company to sell to the person in possession of the stake of a lot.

Will of the Late Hudson Samson.

The will of the late Hudson Samson, dated December 24, 1901, was filed for probate. The testator's widow, Susan G. Samson, and his son, H. G. Samson, are executors. To his brother, D. Samson, he bequests certain stocks and to his sister-in-law, Marla T. Curry, property in North avenue, Allegheny. At the death of the latter the Allegheny property is to be sold and the Parent Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will receive the proceeds. The testator leaves to his son, H. G. Samson, property at Valley Camp and his business. The children of the latter receive cash bequests and Mrs. Samson is made residuary legatee.

Women Want Damages from City.

Sarah J. Ruff, Josephine Keally and Barbara McLane have entered separate suits in common pleas court No. 3 against the city of Pittsburgh, each claiming $3,000 damages as the result of the improvement in Atlantic avenue. The plaintiffs aver they each own property in Rosetta street, an intersecting street, which was damaged by the grading of Atlantic avenue, but were not allowed any damages by the board of viewers.

Notes of the Court.

The will of the late Peter McGee was filed for probate by Agnes A. Wiseman and Julia McGee. The will has not been placed on record.

Milton E. Strayer of Pittsburgh, a foreman, yesterday filed with the clerk of the United States district court a petition in bankruptcy. The liabilities are placed at $428 and the assets at $175.

Josephine Burns has sued James Burns for a decree in divorce, and Laura James has entered a similar suit against John H. James. Both allege cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to the person.

Nathan Gelb entered suit in common pleas court No. 1 against David Fogal and Max Schlosits for $3,000. He alleges that he has failed to receive his share of the proceeds of the sale of a grocery business.

CONCLAVE WILL HAVE GOOD TIME

Knights of Columbus Program at Put-in-Bay Combines Business and Pleasure.

PITTSBURGHERS ON GROUND

Delegation Arrived Yesterday and Will Act as Host to the Other Visiting Delegates—Exciting Episode During Trip.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

PUT-IN-BAY, O., July 27.—With the arrival of the Pittsburgh delegation this afternoon the festivities of Knights of Columbus week began and will continue, with brief intermission for sleep, until August 3. The entire summer colony was down to the lake front to welcome the arrivals and many of the private yachts in the bay fired salutes. Hotels, cottages and pleasure resorts are profusely decorated for the occasion.

The bonfaces received with wide-open arms of interested gladness and with smiles as wide as the regulation gash in a watermelon, for not less than 1,000 people will be here for the conclave. The Pittsburgh delegation left the Steel City at 7:55 this morning in a special train over the Pennsylvania for Cleveland, thence by the steamer City of New York to the bay.

This is the fifth annual conclave of the Knights of Columbus of the states of Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan, and is this year under the auspices of the four Pittsburgh councils, Duquesne, Allegheny, Pittsburgh of East End, and Monongahela of the South Side.

The general committee consists of members of the four councils, John A. Meighan is general chairman and the chairmen of the various committees are: James P. Dunleavy, amusements; M. J. Slattery, transportation; F. J. McNulty, ways and means; T. L. Kerin, press; Joseph McDermott, secretary, and Joseph Kelly, treasurer.

Delegations will be present from many cities of the states named above. The headquarters are at the Hotel Victory. The program of entertainment so far as completed is:

Shirt waist dance at the Hotel Victory tonight; tomorrow night, concert and vaudeville by members of the order; Wednesday night, cakewalk by members of the organization for a prize; Thursday night, Vaudeville, and Friday night a grand ball, in which only members are eligible. Business meetings will be held each morning beginning at 10 o'clock.

The first excitement of the trip occurred at the top of Highland hill, 37 miles west of Pittsburgh. As the train was rounding a sharp curve at a point where a gang is reducing the curve Engineer James Powell saw one of the workers step on the track. It was too late to act and a freight moving in the opposite direction drowned the sound of the swift moving special. As the big engine was almost upon the workman he saw his danger and had presence of mind to jump.

He saved his life, but the end of the pilot buffer caught his arm and shattered it and he was bruised by his fall, but Engineer Powell was still pale when he backed the train to take on the injured man, who was left at New Galilee. His name was Angelo Reacho, an Italian.

The voyage over the lake was enjoyed by all except a few, who were affected as usual, and the lake was not at all rough.

The Three Rivers

CINCINNATI, O., July 27.—The stage of the river at 8 p. m. marked 12.9 feet and rising. The Dave Wood passed down with a tow of coal for Louisville. The Charley Brown is tied up here to undergo a thorough overhauling. Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, left tonight for Pittsburgh to attend the formal opening of the dam at Herrs Island. Packets in and out as usual with good passenger lists and fair freight trips.

LOUISVILLE—River rising; canal, 6.1 feet; falls, 3.9 feet; locks, 10.4 feet.

STEUBENVILLE—River 4 feet 9 inches and falling.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet 2 inches and stationary.

WARREN—River 1 foot 5 inches.

PARKERSBURG—River 6.7 feet and raining. The Wheeling wharf boat came off the docks.

MARIETTA—River 6.5 feet and falling.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet and falling.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary.

GALLIPOLIS—River 8 feet and falling.

POINT PLEASANT—River 6 feet and falling.

HUNTINGTON—River 10 feet, 4 inches and falling.

PACKETS ARRIVING LATE.

Low Water and Fog Kept the Boats Back Several Hours.

The down river packets were considerably late in arriving at the wharf yesterday. The raising of the wickets at Davis Island dam held them back, as did a fog at Rochester. The Keystone State from Cincinnati, the Kanawha from Charleston and the Ben Hur from Parkersburg all arrived with big trips.

The water raised a few feet in the harbor on account of the raising of the wickets of Davis Island dam. The river below the dam gradually filled so as to afford a fair stage for the outgoing packets. The wickets of the Herrs Island dam were also raised so as to provide plenty of water in the Allegheny for the celebration today. This is the first time the wickets of the Davis Island dam and Herrs Island dam have been raised at the same time.

The marks on the Davis Island dam's gauge at 6 o'clock last night showed a stage of 3.7 feet, and the river was rising slowly.

ARRIVALS.

Keystone State, Knox, Cincinnati.
Kanawha, Roe, Charleston.
Ben Hur, Simms, Parkersburg.
Edgar Cherry, Hoag, Brownsville.
Columbia, Abrams, Morgantown.

DEPARTURES.

Keystone State, Knox, Cincinnati.
Ben Hur, Simms, Parkersburg.
Edgar Cherry, Hoag, Brownsville.
I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.

The Cruiser has laid up at New Cumberland, W. Va.

The Queen City from Cincinnati is due to arrive this evening with her usual big trip.

The Josh Cook will be put on the Elizabeth ways tomorrow, when the Tom Rees will be taken off.

The launching of Capt. Gordon Greene's new side-wheeler is scheduled for tomorrow, but it is doubtful if it is launched before Saturday.

The Keystone State delivered the largest load of freight and passengers at the Cincinnati wharf yesterday in her history. She had a big trip going out also.

The raising of the water in the Monongahela river has enabled the rivermen to bring some coal down from the pools and take up empties to the mines.

The I. C. Woodward was the Morgantown packet to leave yesterday afternoon. She had big trips, as did the Edgar Cherry, which plies daily between Pittsburgh and Brownsville.

EASTERN STOCKS CLOSED AT THE TOP

Wall Street Greatly Relieved When the Day Closed Without the Announcement of Any Important Failures.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Wall street experienced a decided feeling of relief at the close of the stock market yesterday. The extreme weakness on Saturday and the many rumors afloat regarding the solvency of several large brokerage houses created the general impression that Monday would be the test, and therefore there was much nervousness before the opening. London quotations showed fractional gains, and foreigners were buyers to the extent of 20,000 shares. Prices were very irregular for a brief period, and when the failures were announced of a small house in Wall street and another in Boston, the stocks in which these houses were supposed to be interested broke violently. There were persistent rumors affecting the standing of a house supposed to be interested in Brooklyn Rapid Transit, but when the latter made a strong rally from 41¼ to 45½, the shorts began to display signs of nervousness, as the movement was taken to indicate that the house in question was not in trouble. Throughout the morning session the dealings were active and feverish, the sales reaching 427,000 shares. From noon until 2 o'clock there was a dull but steady market. When 2:15 p. m., "delivery hour," passed without the announcement of additional failures, the whole market became strong and advanced steadily to the close, the final sales being at the highest prices of the day. The total transactions reached 603,000 shares.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Minor railroad and industrial stocks were the greatest sufferers during the morning session, and they also scored the greatest gains later in the day. United States Rubber preferred opened at 34, broke to 30½, and rallied to 33½. This is the stock in which Taylor & Co. were supposed to be interested, and on the theory that liquidation had not been completed in it, the bears attacked prices. The strong rally contained a suggestion of what might happen in other stocks which have recently been under pressure. Amalgamated Copper broke from 38½ to 37¼, but later recovered to 40¼. Anaconda Copper opened 5 per cent lower at 69, broke to 67, and then rallied to 74, closing at a net gain of 8 per cent. Pressed Steel Car opened 2½ per cent lower at 40, but that proved to be the lowest of the day, and it later recovered to 44. General Electric broke to 153, but recovered to 161. American Car and Foundry rose from 30 to 33 and retained most of the gain at the close. The United States Steel stocks were steadier than for some days past, and when it became apparent that there was no pressure against them, both issues recovered, the common advancing from 22¼ to 24, and the preferred from 69⅜ to 71⅝, final sales being the highest of the day. A feature of the buying of the preferred was the number of odd-lot orders executed, and this was likewise a feature in the better class of railroads, indicating that the small investor was in the market.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The action of the railroad list after the first hour was more encouraging than at any previous time during the past two weeks. The Erie and Rock Island issues were quite weak in the early dealings, Erie commencing a new low point by selling at 27¼, Rock Island common declining to 21⅝ and the preferred to 60½. The last named was one of the strongest stocks in the late rally, reaching 63¼. St. Paul sold off fractionally in the early dealings, but later recovered all the loss and more besides, while Pennsylvania was strong, advancing to 126, the highest price for two weeks. New York Central, in which there is said to be a large short interest, advanced from 118 to 120½. The Southern Railway issues were firm and higher, on what was thought to be Morgan buying, this being the first time in more than a week that this firm was credited with supporting any of its specialties. Illinois Central, Northwestern and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western were strong and higher, Lackawanna advancing from 234 to 242. Reading advanced from 46¾ to 50, and Southern Pacific from 40¾ to 43¾. Louisville & Nashville rose 2 per cent to 104, and the road reported an increase of $89,000 in gross earnings for the third week in July. Baltimore & Ohio also rallied 2 per cent to 83, and Atchison 2½ per cent to 65. The strength of the grain markets, and the apprehensions of the Chicago Board of Trade "farmers" over the outlook for the corn crop, had no effect in checking the advance in the railroad list, which, like the industrials, closed at or near the top.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

Call money rates opened at 3½ per cent, and declined to 2 per cent, at which the final loan was made. From the action of both the stock and money market, the impression was conveyed that bank loans had been pretty well liquidated, and the dullness which ensued during the latter part of the day was in consonance with similar markets in the past. Within the past two months hopes that the turn had come have been so invariably disappointed, that it will require several days of continuous rallies before the investing public will have confidence; but it now looks as though last Friday and Saturday had marked "low day" in this prolonged downward reaction.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The local stock market yesterday was less active and the trading was confined mainly to a few specialties. The most active stock was Pittsburgh Coal common, which opened weak at 25½ and gradually recovered to 26⅝, closing unchanged at 26¼. The selling was confined mainly to one large house, while the buying was scattered. The preferred stock was dull, declining to 83 and recovering to 85½. River Coal common was unchanged at 10¼, but the preferred declined from 38¾ to 38, closing at a net decline of ½. The steel stocks were quieter than for some days past. Pressed Coke common declined 1½, and closed at 11¾. The preferred was weak, breaking to 72, but recovering to 75 at the close. United States Steel common declined to 22½, but rallied to and closed at 24. The preferred rallied from 69¾ to 71¼. Westinghouse Electric was weak and lower, declining to 83¼, but recovering to 85 at the close. Manufacturers Light & Heat declined to 32½ and recovered to 33¼. Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 38 and rallied to 38⅝. Philadelphia Company declined ⅞ to 39½ on the sale of 100 shares. National Fire Proofing common sold at 22@22¼ and the preferred after declining to 32½, rallied to 35. There was only one transaction in the bank and trust company group, 10 shares Duquesne National Bank selling at 280, a decline of 10 points from the last previous sale. American Trust was offered at 475, and closed without bid. River Coal bonds sold unchanged at 113½, but Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s declined 1½ per cent to 93.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

There was only one small transaction in local bank stocks yesterday, and the number of issues quoted was smaller than for some time past. The bank and trust company group has been looked upon as the weak spot in the local market, owing to the large additions made to capital of old institutions and the large number of entirely new institutions. It has been the general opinion that a considerable amount of this class of stock was carried on margin, and that liquidation in the same could only be accomplished at the expense of values. The action of the market during the past two weeks has indicated that these stocks are in stronger hands than generally supplied, and that there is little cause for anxiety on account of the same.

Manufacturers Light & Heat sold at 32½ the lowest price since the reorganization, but later recovered to 33. In some quarters the feeling on the stock is very bullish, based upon the increased earnings that are expected to result from advances in rates for gas, but it is evident that some stockholders who received three shares of new stock for each share of old stock are taking a portion of their profits. The sale yesterday brought to a decline of about $37 a share compared with the high price reached by the old stock before the stock dividend.

The dividend of 2 per cent on Natural Gas of West Virginia is payable Friday.

Philadelphia Company declined to 39½ on the marketing of 100 shares. It is possible that the announcement made in the east of a new loan just negotiated by the company had something to do with the weakness. It is stated that Brown Bros. & Co. have negotiated a loan of $1,000,000 at 6 per cent for the Philadelphia Company to pay for extensions, new equipment and a new power house. The money was borrowed on the company's securities without commission, a portion being placed abroad and the remainder in Philadelphia.

Pittsburg Brewing common declined to 31 and the preferred to 44½, but the former recovered to 31¾ at the close.

National Fire Proofing common sold to the extent of 275 shares at 22@22¼. Sales of the preferred reached 311 shares, at 32¼@33.

The rally in Brooklyn Rapid Transit was accompanied by a report that a large block of the stock had been taken over privately before the opening of the market.

It was noticeable that it did not require much buying to put up U. S. Steel common yesterday, the stock advancing from 22¾ to 24 on the local board on purchases of 825 shares. On less than 500 shares, the preferred advanced from 69⅝ to 71¼. The decline in Crucible Steel preferred to 72 on sales of less than 200 shares seemed to be more an effort on the part of the bears to bring the stock to a parity with U. S. Steel preferred than anything else.

Pittsburg, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s declined to 93, the lowest price in months.

Westinghouse Airbrake rallied $1.50 a share to 155 on purchases of 61 shares.

U. S. Steel new 5s opened firmer at 78⅝ and advanced to 79⅜.

After discussing at some length the plausibility of the stories regarding the operations of the "Standard Oil crowd" in purchasing a large quantity of interest in both New York and Pennsylvania, the New York Commercial Bulletin says that if such a deal has been consummated the public will not be taken into the confidence of the Rockefellers at a time when both stocks are selling at the lowest prices for years. It then continues: "A further interesting report which has recently obtained circulation is that the same group of capitalists have undertaken a no less gigantic task than to put themselves in virtual control of the United States Steel Corporation. If any such ambition is cherished by these capitalists, there is nothing on the surface to indicate it, and it would seem extremely doubtful that even this resourceful clique could at one time consummate all of the various plans with which they are credited. It is only in line with the proverbial patience with which the senior member of the Standard Oil contingent is credited. At the time when Atchison common was selling in the teens, long before the preferred stock had commenced dividend payments, and at a time when Wall street was even wondering whether the adjustment bonds were even worth 10 cents on the dollar, that little famous financier was steadily absorbing at declining prices, offerings of the common shares and of other similar issues. The forethought which could foresee the ultimate payment of dividends on the Atchison common stock is easily able to turn to its own great advantage the widespread distress under which so many other properties of real caliber have been suffering in recent months."

The Union Match Company has reduced its dividend rate to 5 per cent, and a dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable August 1, has been declared.

The Union Realty Co. has declared a dividend of 4 per cent out of the earnings of the past three months. The directorate elected to serve for the ensuing year is as follows: W. L. Abbott, president; George E. McCague, vice president; Charles Hamilton, vice president; C. A. Painter, J. H. Para, W. F. McCook, W. H. Rowe, W. A. Shaw, Grant McGargo, Murry A. Verner, J. K. Ewing, E. A. Woods, Adam Wissman, T. A. McGinley and W. A. Nicholson. J. C. Ewing is secretary and A. M. Irwin treasurer.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent, payable August 1 to stock of record on July 24.

"Ought we to sell our United States Steel?" This is the rather pathetic question which comes to the Evening Post from many quarters. It may be answered here. The sign-boards are bidden to be whitewashed for ruined their own excesses. are madly flinging their thousands of shares on a reluctant market at any price, is emphatically not the time for real investors to be thinking of selling. It is certain that the common stock had no right to receive a dividend, it is also true that the stock sells today at a lower price than that recommended in normal times by stocks which have never paid a dividend. The financial future is at the moment more than usually impenetrable, but there is nothing yet which the eye can see to portend evils which the company's profits as such threaten its present strong position. Such declines will come, of course, hereafter, but that could equally have been said, and in fact was said, during 1901. Insofar as the fall in Steel shares or in any other shares is a mere result of too much stock in an unwilling market, this is an hour not to sell, but to buy. Only, it must be kept in mind, the largest with ready money has at such times the chance to buy the best.—New York Evening Post.

In view of the discussion over the increase in the loan item in Saturday's bank statement, where a decrease was looked for, the subjoined table will be interesting. FOURTH AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD

No. 522 Is Bought for a Site for $40,000 Office Building.

ACREAGE SALE BRINGS $18,000

Churches Continue to Hold on for Big Prices—Disgust at Appearance of Diamond Alley—New Building Projects. Big Frontage Deal.

The sale is reported of the A. Wilson property, at No. 522 Fourth avenue, adjoining the Hermann office building, between Grant and Ross streets. From one of the buyers it was learned that the articles of agreement had been signed in the transaction and that the deal would be closed in a few days. The exact consideration was not learned, but is said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000. At present the lot, which measures 24x87 feet, is improved with an old two-story brick house of little value. When the title to the property is transferred, the buyers, two local builders, will erect a six-story office building on the site of cost $40,000. This is the fourth sale of property in this square within three months, the Pentecost building having been sold twice in that period, and the Hermann office building once.

Through the Greater Pittsburgh Real Estate Company John A. Wachter has sold to a company of Allegheny investors 4 acres in Ross township for $18,000. The property is vacant, except for farm buildings, and lies near the borough line of Bellevue. The buyers already own one brickyard and propose to establish another on the plot purchased as soon as tests can be made on the different grades of clay.

Churches Stiffening Their Prices.

The rapidity with which offers for church properties in or adjacent to the downtown district are being refused, indicates that the church authorities have made a careful study of values and propose to hold on in anticipation of still further enhancement, unless an exceptionally large price is offered. Recently an offer of $80,000 was declined for the property of the Fifth Avenue Second Methodist Protestant church, on the south side of Fifth avenue just east of Marion street. The lot measures 75x120 feet, so that the offer was at the rate of $1,066 a front foot. The congregation, it is said, will consider no offer less than $100,000. The offer of $107,000, made for the Fifth Avenue Congregational church, opposite Washington street, was also declined a short time ago, and it is said that this property is held now at $115,000. This lot is 64x112 feet. Since the decision of the Second Presbyterian church not to accept the offer of $500,000 for its property at Penn avenue and Seventh street, nothing has been done by the trustees toward a sale, although it is reported that another offer, above that sum, has been submitted.

Diamond Alley Voted a Disgrace.

The moving of the Grand Opera house in Diamond street, which is now nearly accomplished, has brought to the attention of business men the condition and prospects of what was expected to be a model downtown street. Expressions of disgust and anger are heard on every side at the midway appearance of the street which was first noted by The Gazette three weeks ago. Merchants declare that permits should not have been issued for the ramshackle makeshifts that are being erected or the shiftless repairs that are being made to the fronts of buildings on that side of the street. Viewing the street from Smithfield street it has every appearance of some river alley in a manufacturing town in the purlieus of the community congregate for gambling and drinking. In the opinion of business men the improvements now going ahead will not only keep first-class business firms from locating in the street for several years, but will also injure the patronage of firms that have been there for some time. With the Frick building at the upper end of the street and the Kaufmann block just above Smithfield street, that part of the street has made a strikingly marked improvement, while the lower end is an eyesore in the business center and bids fair to continue so for some time.

New Buildings Assured.

Ambridge building projects are going ahead at a rate that assures a new town for the American Bridge Company by the time their works are ready for operation. By August 15 the three-story brick building of the Ambridge Savings & Trust Company at the corner of Charles and Merchant streets, will have been completed at a cost of $22,000. The post-office will have quarters on the first floor and the German Building & Loan association of Pittsburgh will also be housed in the building. Bridle Brothers have a large concrete brick business block well under way in Merchant street, and E. C. Laskel, a hotel man of Beaver, will build a hotel three stories high in the same street at a cost of $15,000. Dennis Davis is also building a three-story block in Merchant street to cost $15,000.

Architect W. J. Shaw has been commissioned to prepare plans for two more cottage buildings for the state normal school at Indiana, Pa. The estimated cost of the two is put at $70,000.

Architect Ludwig Dick is taking bids on a buff brick apartment house at the corner of California avenue and Superior street, Allegheny, to cost $18,000.

Big Boulevard Deal.

The articles of agreement have been signed and the final details will be arranged today in the sale of a large plot of choice frontage on the boulevard in the Twenty-third ward. The consideration is $138,000 and the buyer is a local realty dealer.

A striking example of the stubbornness of some property holders and the difficulty brokers have in completing sites for business houses is seen at the corner of Washington street and Verona alley, where Mrs. J. Jatwell owns a two-story brick house on a lot 31x27 feet. The property is directly in the rear of the new building of the Washington National bank, the first flat iron building in Pittsburgh, and is in fact, surrounded by it on two sides. It is fully appreciated by the bank officials to round out their holdings and they have repeatedly offered the owner $9,000 for the property. This, however, was not considered as Mrs. Jatwell holds it to be worth $15,000 at least to the bank.

SHARP DECLINE IN CREAMERY BUTTER

New Hay Arriving in Liberal Quantity—The Flour Market Shows Weakness.

A cut of 1½ cents a pound was made in the price of creamery butter at Elgin yesterday, and the local market has gone off the same amount. The decline was not unexpected, as an easy feeling has prevailed for several days, which dealers thought would lead to a reduction in price. Cheese remains steady at quotations of yesterday morning, and the demand is good. Eggs are unchanged, continuing at prices which have ruled for some time.

There is plenty of new hay coming to market now, but it is not in favor with buyers and does not move freely. Very little of it is yet graded as No. 1, for which grade there is sale at $15 to $16, while the bulk, which is No. 2, brings from $14 to $15. Retail dealers are selling out their stocks of old hay before buying new, and consumers prefer the old as long as they can get it. For this reason quotations for the latter remain firm, and the market is steady, notwithstanding the apparently heavy hay receipts shown by the bulletin. Oats were in fair supply, but the situation is steady. Corn is firm, with top quotations easily obtainable.

Weakness in the speculative wheat market has had some effect on flour, although cash wheat remains firm. Fancy spring patent flour is allowed to remain unchanged as to nominal quotations, but the concession of five cents a barrel, which was allowed only in occasional sales of it yesterday, is the outside future last week, is now general, and the buyer is able to obtain lower than the list for almost any order. Coffee is unchanged, with primal market still weak. Sugar shows no change from figures ruling last Saturday, while jobbers continue to pocket losses when selling sugar, because they cannot agree among themselves as to a profitable basis on which to sell. Canned goods and dried fruits are unchanged.

Barrel onions are scarce and higher. Cabbage has advanced in price. Egg plant is less plentiful and has attained a higher position. Quotations bring 25 cents a dozen above those ruling at the close of the week. String beans are not so abundant as they were, and quotations are a trifle firmer. Basket cantaloupes are coming in freely and have attained a higher position. Watermelons are in large supply at former prices. Valencia oranges are firmer. California peaches are scarce and quotations rule higher. California plums have advanced. Peaches of all kinds are scarce just now, but few having come to this market in the last few days, and prices have moved forward.

There is no increase in the supply of poultry as yet, and prices continue to rule high. Chickens are keeping scarce, and the expectation that they would be in greater plenty by the opening of this week was not realized.

ALL THE GRAINS HIGHER AT CLOSE OF THE MARKET

The Chicago Pits Were Active and Strong Throughout Yesterday's Session.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 27.—Notwithstanding several setbacks occasioned by realizing, the wheat market ruled decidedly strong throughout the day and trading was on a large scale. Opening values were higher, under the influence of strong cables and small world's shipments. With continued discouraging threshing returns coming in and with outside markets showing a firm tone, the market here quickly responded to the bullish news. On this advance local bulls took advantage to secure profits which resulted in slight declines at various stages of the session, but the market always rallied to increased trading and strength in corn was one of the chief bull factors. Primary receipts were 608,700 bushels against 1,068,200 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 187 cars, which with local receipts of 80 cars, 27 of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 276 cars against 205 last week, and 203 cars a year ago.

Trading in corn opened with a rush and commission houses were literally swamped with buying orders from the outside, which ranged in a wide range of prices at the start. September selling down 2@2¼c from Saturday's close, a rain of ½@¾c to ⅞@1c from Saturday's close. After still further advance had been made the market reacted on general profit-taking, several large commission houses being active sellers. Unfavorable crop advices continued to come in, and although trading was not as active as early in the day, the market regained its early strength and ruled higher the greater part of the session. Local receipts were 181 cars with 16 of contract grade.

The strength in wheat and corn were supporting influences to oats and held prices firm, although the July option declined a sixteenth, or 2¼c on free offerings by cash houses. There was a good demand for the deferred futures, but trading lacked any features. After ranging between 33⅞c and 34¼c, September closed 33¾c higher at 33¾@34c. Local receipts were 256 cars.

Provisions were weak, with further unloading of ribs by a prominent packer. This feature, coupled with the liberal receipts of hogs and a decline of 10c in prices at the yards caused a bearish sentiment throughout the day. The close was at about the bottom, with September 10@12½c lower, closed 7½@8c lower. December, 36¾@39c, closed 37½@40c lower.

In the Oil Fields

There was nothing out of the ordinary in field developments in the lower Southwest yesterday. In the Salem district, Harrison county, W. Va., where operators have of late been getting small wells, the South Penn Oil Company met an agreeable surprise when it drilled its test on the W. A. Rodgers farm and encountered a second pay. The first 24 hours after the lower pay was tapped the well produced 125 barrels of oil. It is the largest Gordon pay produced that has been found in that district in many months.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel and Harrison counties, the Corning Oil Company has completed its No. 10 on the Hez. Hood farm and secured a 50-barrel producer in the Gordon. The South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the Wilding farm and has a 30-barrel well in the stray and Gordon.

The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test in the Mahala Greathouse farm, in the Big Grave extension, into the Gordon, and the hole has filled up 1,000 feet with fluid. It will make a fair producer. In the same district the South Penn's

VERY BUSY DAY FOR THE GUARD

Continuous Roud of Inspections Being Made by Brigade Officers.

GOVERNOR IS WELL PLEASED

He Made a Second Tour of Camp McKinley Yesterday—Gen. Miller Gives Words of Praise to the Local Guardsmen.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAMP WILLIAM M'KINLEY, SOMERSET, PA., July 27.—A trip by Gov. Pennypacker and Miss Pennypacker through the camps of the entire brigade and the start of the brigade inspection, served to render today interesting at Camp William McKinley. The governor on closer view confirmed the good opinion he had formed of the Second brigade and he said this afternoon: "I am very well pleased with what I saw on my ride today." Maj. Gen. Miller with Brig. Gen. Wiley and Maj. Bretler and Foster of the division commander's staff, also rode the camp.

The governor has added a military decoration to his camp attire. It is the medal of the Society of the Army of the Potomac to which he belongs by virtue of his service in the Twenty-sixth Pennsylvania Infantry. In his trip through camp today he wore a campaign hat. Miss Pennypacker made a new acquisition for headquarters today. While the commander's party was at brigade headquarters a handsome little maltese kitten mysteriously appeared and was at once made a member of Miss Pennypacker's staff.

Gen. Miller is more than well pleased with the inspections this year. "On my recent trip to Europe I saw the crack troops of England, Germany, France and Switzerland. I would feel safer at the head of this division of the Pennsylvania National Guard than commanding the same number of soldiers from any of those countries," he said.

Compares With the Best.

"I saw the German troops at Strassburg and on the border where the best are kept, because of the danger of losing Alsace. I saw the English review at Aldershot and the Swiss troops at Andermatt and Devil's Bridge, and through the mountains. If the infantry of this division did not present a better alignment than the English at Aldershot, I should feel much disappointed and I wish I had Capt. Jones and the Sheridan troop to teach the English cavalry their business."

It is being generally remarked today throughout the camp, that the present encampment is notable for order and discipline. The improvement of two years ago, here, is commented on by the townspeople. The cause is said to be twofold. In the first place, excellent work is being done by the provost guard. For the first three nights of Company D of the Fifth, Capt. Cheed, formed the guard, and the rigor with which the regulations were carried out was unusual. Following Company D came Company M, of the same regiment, and Company A of the Fourteenth, Capt. A. W. Crookston, in new carrying out the precedent established.

Practically no arrests have been made for three days, for those who have had no business outside of camp have found it inadvisable to stray.

"There there's no reason why they should go down town, for the canteen system in effect makes it unnecessary to leave the camp to find a glass of beer, and that is the usual cause of runaways," said one of the captains today. "The result of trying the canteen in my company is that there has not been a case of drunkenness or absence without leave since the boys arrived. I let them have four or five pints of beer a day, the beer being distributed when they return from the drills, hot and dusty."

Favor the Army Canteen.

A stand in favor of the canteen has been taken by Maj. William G. Johnston, surgeon of the Sixteenth regiment. "It serves the purpose of giving coolness and restoring wasted tissue after the day's coffee," he said. "I am in favor of the canteen, judiciously managed. Something to cool off the wearers of khaki is needed. They are being drilled continuously. This evening there were regimental parades in all the regiments, the Sixteenth choosing the sloping lawn in front of the Highland inn.

Lieut. Col. Penny, division inspector, completed in one day the inspection of guard mount throughout the brigade and expresses satisfaction at the showing made.

"There is every evidence of much improvement since the last camp," he said. The Sixteenth, Fourteenth, Tenth, Fifth and Eighteenth regiments were taken in turn with the Sheridan troop at the finish. In the troop Col. Penny made his first inspection of sentinels. Col. Walter Howe and Lieut. Purviance observed the inspections made by Col. Penny.

Col. Samuel Moody, quartermaster general, and Col. W. F. Richardson, division quartermaster, completed their inspection of the Tenth and Fourteenth regiments as to quartermaster's supplies and canvas. Battery B and the Tenth regiment will follow tomorrow, with the Eighteenth, Fifth and troop on Wednesday. Col. A. J. Logan, commissary general, and Lieut. Col. H. L. Baldeman, his assistant, inspected the commissary departments of the brigade.

Will Entertain Guests.

A large party of distinguished citizens of Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore will be guests of four of the staff officers at division headquarters Wednesday afternoon. The party will come from Pittsburgh in two special cars over the Pennsylvania to Johnstown. Among these from Pittsburgh to be in the party are James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, and Robert Pitcairn, assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad. The hosts are Cols. Logan, Moody, Brown and Lindsay.

Edward M. Bland of Coraopolis, until now second lieutenant of Company M of the Eighteenth, has been appointed assistant surgeon of the Eighteenth. He ranks now as first lieutenant. It was said this afternoon unofficially by one of the inspecting officers, that Company F of the Fourteenth has the best company quarters in the brigade. The entire brigade will parade the downtown streets tomorrow evening, by invitation of Somerset's council. A special meeting was called by Councilman Robert S. Scull, and he, with W. H. Ruppel, Esq., was appointed a committee to extend the invitation. Gen. Wiley accepted on learning the wish of the people of the town. Tonight a serenade was given Gen. W. H. Koontz of Somerset by the Eighteenth regiment band.

The surgeons of the entire brigade are being given a reception this evening at division headquarters to meet Gov. Pennypacker and Col. Lee Conte, surgeon general.

WAR ON BAD MILK IN CITY AND OUT

Over 100 Cases of Adulteration Found in Western Pennsylvania Towns.

MANY IN PITTSBURGH ALSO

Conditions Are Alarming—Some Dealers Have Been Fined Twice—Meat Sellers Who Use Formaldehyde Will Be Gone After.

War on dealers in impure milk is being waged vigorously in Pittsburgh by the department of public safety, and in the small towns through Western Pennsylvania by the state department of agriculture. The adulteration of milk is rapidly being eliminated in Pittsburgh, and soon Director Harry Moore will take up the cudgels against the butchers who use formaldehyde to preserve meats.

The investigation was inaugurated by the dairy and food commission under the agricultural department. On July 1 Inspector Foust was directed to procure samples of milk in all towns and cities in Western Pennsylvania. Since that time he has been doing this, leaving out Pittsburgh, as here the board of health under the safety department is active.

The amount of formaldehyde, which is also known as "preservaline," found in the samples of milk secured here and elsewhere is alarming. Boracic acid, or borache, is also used in great quantities, as is also plain water, to help in the milk's adulteration. The samples are analyzed by Prof. F. T. Aschman of this city, and his report will be kept secret until made to the dairy and food commission in a few weeks.

Milk Adulterution Outside the City.

Dr. Aschman stated yesterday that over 100 cases of milk adulteration in Western Pennsylvania, outside this city, had been discovered this far. Many prosecutions have been made and the adulterators punished. It is the intention of the state authorities to enforce the sale of pure milk.

The condition of affairs of the milk sold to Pittsburghers is likewise alarming. Director Moore stated yesterday that the act of 1895 compelling all dealers in milk in this city to register their names at the safety department is being enforced. The dealers have but 15 days more to register.

Meanwhile examinations of milk samples are secured by S. P. Adler, the milk inspector. A daily report is rendered Director Moore of the condition of the milk tested and prosecutions are begun at once.

Impure Milk in the City.

There have been many cases of milk adulteration in Pittsburgh since Director Moore assumed office. Some dealers have been prosecuted twice for this offense. The penalty for the first conviction is $10 and for the second $25. The director states that he realizes the importance of having a pure milk supply in the city and he intends that it shall be secured.

"As soon as Dr. Matson has finished with the vaccinations upon which he is now engaged," said Director Moore, "a war will be inaugurated on meat dealers in Pittsburgh. I understand that they, too, use formaldehyde to freshen up stale meats. The odor of the staleness is eliminated by this poison and the meat is sold to the unsuspecting as fresh. This matter will be taken up at once.

"It is evident there is considerable adulteration of milk in this city with formaldehyde. This must be stopped. Formaldehyde, while not a deadly poison, is dangerous and may explain why there are so many cases of stomach trouble in this vicinity. This war will be carried on unceasingly until we are sure that absolutely pure milk and nothing else is being sold."

NEGROES CONCLUDE AN OUTING WITH A BATTLE

Fought from Ashtabula Harbor to Pittsburgh on Rushing Train and Were Met by Police.

With open arms the South Side police last evening awaited in the train shed at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station for the train on which the members of the Colored Hodcarriers' union were returning from their outing at Ashtabula harbor. During the evening the local police received a number of messages stating that the members of the union had a riot on the train. A telegram from New Castle, Pa., stated that the baggage car resembled a "slaughter house."

A squad of policemen in charge of Capt. J. N. Frederick and Lieuts. Dorigan and Morley arrived at the railroad station early in the evening, and those in charge of the squad expected to make a big haul. When the train arrived it was surrounded by the police. The negro men, young and old, were attired in white duck trousers, and the women carried great bunches of bullrushes. As soon as the train stopped the officers of the union rushed to the police to point out the men who started the trouble. Conductor Shea, who had charge of the train, said the trip was the most eventful he had ever made. He said from the time the train started until it stopped fights were in progress.

The battle was not so fierce as reported, and while there was a plentiful display of blood and bandages, the police were able to locate only two injured men. John Williams of Ottawa street showed the police a badly fractured jaw, and Daniel Allen of Fifty-fifth street unwound a long string of bandages and showed several big gashes in his head. John Abrams of Jones avenue, charged with being one of the aggressors in the battles, and Oscar Steele, who, the police allege, held up a Pole in Thirtieth street Sunday night, were arrested. The injured men were sent to the South Side hospital and the two others to No. 7 police station.

KING OF STAR BOARDERS.

Elopes With Proprietor's Wife and Five Children and Takes All the Coin.

CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—(Special.)—The police are now at work on an eloping case which is startling in the extreme, in that an alleged "star boarder" has taken not only the wife of the proprietor of the boarding house, but his five children, the oldest being a boy of 19 years and the youngest a small child, besides $1,300 in cash.

A. Lobalinski, No. 66 Andes alley, incidentally thinks he is the most unlucky man in the city of Cleveland. He reported in detail to the police Saturday, his troubles and Detective Bernhard investigated Monday morning. No arrests have yet been made. Two or three days ago, according to Lobalinski, his wife ran away with their boarder, Raz Laucius, taking with her their five children and a bank book, which entitled her to draw $1,100 from a bank, together with $200 that had been laid away in the house and which was about to be deposited.

It was all the property that Lobalinski possessed. It had been his savings covering a period of several years in this country as a common laborer.

TRACTION BILLS BEING PREPARED

Ordinances for Verner-Bigelow Syndicate to Be Presented Early in September.

SUBWAY SYSTEM IS PLANNED

Charters Have Been Obtained and Measures Are Being Put in Shape for Councils—Administration Favors Enterprise—Means Another Fight.

The new street railway syndicate, which obtained a number of charters recently at Harrisburg, will have its ordinances introduced in councils at the first meeting in September following the present summer vacation. These ordinances are expected to precipitate as lively a fight as the controversy over the Duquesne way railroad grant.

A representative of the new traction company was in the city clerk's office yesterday gathering data for the preparation of the ordinances. Little is known by the public of the proposed plans, but judging from the routes named in the charters and information obtained from other sources it is evident that an elaborate system of subways is projected.

In one charted the route named is from Ferry street up Second avenue ending abruptly at about Try street. It is the general belief that the road is to go below the surface of the ground at that point. Another charter provides for a line from Smithfield street up Seventh avenue to New Grant street and Liberty avenue, and then it terminates. This is supposed to be the terminus of another subway. An attempt may also be made to secure the Grant boulevard at Seventh avenue.

It is stated by persons who have intimate relations with the representatives of the new company that Murry A. Verner and the Bigelow brothers are the projectors of this vast scheme and that they are taking great pains to remain in the background until the ordinances are put into councils.

It is known that Director E. M. Bigelow employed Morris Knowles, a former city engineer, to go to Boston, and it is known that Mr. Knowles while there made a careful investigation of Boston's subway system. He also visited New York for the same purpose. In connection with the proposed subways, elevated railways and surface lines are planned. One of the lines is to reach the Squirrel Hill district and the adjoining suburbs, another is to go directly to the East End and Wilkinsburg and one is to cross the city at Soho.

It is alleged that the present administration is favorable to the enterprise and that it will obtain the support of the select council majority to pass the ordinances which probably will be introduced in that branch.

Councils are not expected to meet again until the first of September. The health bureau investigation committee, appointed at the request of Controller Larkin, has adjourned until September. No meeting of the select council to act on the Duquesne way ordinance is expected now before September.

Action on the delinquent tax collectorship matter has also been postponed for the summer. The finance committee put this matter in the hands of a sub-committee which has not yet held a meeting.

VISITOR BADLY HURT.

Mrs. F. A. Stewart of Mannington, W. Va., Struck by Traction Car.

Mrs. F. A. Stewart of Mannington, W. Va., who is visiting her son, was dangerously injured yesterday by being struck by a trolley car in Oakland. An elbow was broken, her jaw was fractured, her shoulder was dislocated and she sustained several scalp wounds. She is at the home of her son, No. 240 Darrah street, Oakland.

Mrs. Stewart, who had been shopping in town, got off a car at Fifth avenue and Darrah streets in the afternoon. She stepped behind the car from which she had alighted and was struck by a Monongahela traction car coming east. The car dragged her some distance before it could be stopped. Mrs. Stewart was first taken to Dr. M. W. Everson's office nearby, and was then removed to her son's house.

GIVES SCIENCE OF OUR FAITHS

Phsychology of Religion Discussed by a Chautauqua Lecturer.

NATURE THE BASIS OF ALL

Potent Elements Played an Important Part in Early Religions of the World. Busy Week for the Assembly Attendants.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 27.—Chautauqua has begun a very busy week. In addition to the missionary institute in session here, and all the popular lectures and entertainments, there are three courses of lectures on scientific subjects. Dr. G. Stanley of Clark university gave the first of his lectures on "The Phsychology of Religion," the particular division for today being "Nature Religions and Their Present Significance."

Dr. Hall said that phsychology of religions is a comparatively new department of science and it deals with only what is essential to a religious life. "I have found in the last year 28 different definitions of religion, but none that were satisfactory. The time is not yet come for an adequate definition of the subject," he said.

The speaker went on to show what a part fire, water, clouds, sun, moon, animals and plants have played in the earlier religions, and the impress they have left on the people of today. In connection with water worship, he said:

"It is a well known fact that all the world over drowning is the most often adopted means of suicide. And that in several hundred of our hymns, the name employed for the soul is taken from some water phenomon. We are coming to understand nature better, are looking at her in a new light for nature is the basis of all religions. It is our duty to ourselves, science and religion that we review these old truths in the class-rooms and laboratory. There can never be any conflict between science and religion. I have no patience whatever with those narrow-minded clergymen who decry science and who would prohibit its progress lest the faith of their people be undermined. As a Christian man I say science and religion now and forever are one and indivisible."

Prof. Richard Moulton spoke today on "Shakespeare's conception tragedy and comedy," which, he says, is one of the questions of the hour. It is being earnestly studied by all students of Shakespeare and many books have been written on the subject within a very short time. S. C. Schmucker, professor of biology in West Chester Normal school, began a series of lectures on nature study. His subject today was "A Family of Spinners."

BELFAST CORDIALLY RECEIVES EDWARD

Ireland's Enthusiasm for Ruler Continues—Woman Badly Trampled in Procession.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELFAST, July 27.—The welcome extended to King Edward and Queen Alexandra at the capital of Ulster was marked by the same enthusiasm which has followed their progress through Ireland. The city was elaborately decorated and thronged with sight-seers, and the streets were lined by 10,000 troops, 2,000 blue jackets and 5,000 police. The lord mayor and corporation awaited their majesties at the railway station, and presented them with an address. Upwards of 50 other addresses were presented on the same occasion.

The king in reply said his highest ambition was to follow in the footsteps of his mother and make the well-being of his people, the prosperity of the realm and the maintenance of the peace of all nations his constant aim.

The royal procession was then formed and traversed the streets to city hall where the king unveiled a statue erected in honor of Queen Victoria.

A serious accident occurred while their majesties were subsequently driving to the Victoria hospital, which they opened today. A peasant woman succeeded in passing the cordon of troops and rushed towards the royal carriage. She was knocked down and falling beneath the wheels, was badly injured. She was taken to the hospital.

After the unveiling their majesties lunched with the lord mayor and visited the agricultural show at Balmoral. Later they went to Bangor, where their reception was most demonstrative. About 1,460 children sang the national anthem. The channel fleet saluted as their majesties embarked on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, on which they will proceed to Londonderry.

P. R. R. ASKS FOR EXTENSION ON AUTOMATIC BRAKES

The Pennsylvania railroad system has applied to the interstate commerce commission for a hearing to determine whether an extension shall be made of the time when "50 per cent of the cars of a train" must have brakes operated by the engineer of the train. According to an act of congress the time has been definitely set for September 1, 1903. It is likely that other roads will join with the Pennsylvania system in asking for a further extension on the ground that enough cars are not equipped with automatic brakes to allow the railroads to comply with the provisions of the act. The hearing in the case of the Pennsylvania railroad will be held in Washington, D. C., August 5, 1903.

Wabash Bids Opened.

Bids for the first work on the Greene county extension of the Wabash were opened yesterday by President J. W. Patterson of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western. It will be a week or 10 days before the contracts are awarded. The work will cover a distance of about 37 miles and will contain a number of tunnels and trestles. After these contracts have been let President Patterson will call for bids for the construction of the line from Waynesburg to a connection with the Buckhannon & Northern.

New Pittsburgh Agent.

The Merchants and Miners Transportation Company has issued a circular that, effective August 1, W. E. Zinckel, agent of the company at Pittsburgh, will retire and be succeeded by Robert Hunter, now connected with the traffic department of the Carnegie Steel Company. Mr. Hunter is well known in Pittsburgh. He is connected with the traffic affairs of the American Steel Hoop Company here.

Railroad Notes.

H. C. Clevenger, general freight agent of the Cumberland Valley, was in the city yesterday.

Work on the Wabash Ferry street station is being delayed on account of a lack of structural steel. The foundation work is practically complete, and the contractors yesterday were ready to start with the erecting of steel. This part of the work will be likely delayed for at least a month. The contract says that the station is to be completed by January 1.

The Pennsylvania lines next Monday morning will move via the Fort Wayne to Chicago and thence to California on account of the Grand Army encampment, the National Association of ex-Prisoners of War, in charge of Col. J. D. Walker. The train will be composed of seven tourist cars, and will travel through to the coast, using the Santa Fe out of Chicago.

BAD NEGRO IS CAPTURED.

Black Jim, Toms Run Terror, Who Killed Clinton Banks, Will be Tried.

James Edwards, known as "Black Jim," the negro who shot Clinton Banks, also colored, on the night of July 4, at Borland, on the Panhandle railroad, has been arrested at Montgomery, W. Va., and County Detective Robert G. Robinson will send a man after him today.

The dead man and the murderer were employed at the Toms Run mines and came from Virginia. A pretty mulatto girl aged about 18, went to the miners' camp one day and immediately became the belle of the diggings. Both Edwards and Banks tried for her smiles, and she chose the latter. This resulted in a quarrel over the girl, with the result that Banks was killed. When Deputy Coroner F. J. Rohan went to investigate the case he was driven from the place by Edwards, at the point of a revolver, and the murderer escaped. It was also hard for the deputy coroner to get six men to view the body, as all were afraid of the wrath of Edwards and his friends.

It is said Edwards also shot a man at Elkhorn last Christmas and another at Pocahontas last Memorial day.
